p. L. Armstrong

Dear Sweetheart –
I didn't think I'd make it through the year, but I did. I'll be back next year to be put in my cage, & I'm sure looking forward to it. You're a fantastic sponsor, and my admiration for you grows bigger every day. Be good this summer, I'll be looking forward to next September. It's hard to believe I'll be a Senior with the honor of being with you three years. Until next year...

Love James J.
Sr '76

Mrs. Armstrong,

What can a person say to a great english teacher and a great great yearbook sponsor. I've had fun and I hope that everything goes OK next year. I'll be by to see you next year & to help you out!

Senior Love Always.
'76 Renee Counts

I've really enjoyed yearbook these last two years. I've met a lot of people, had a lot of fun. You sure had to put up with a lot from us. But, it paid off in the end. I'll come up to see you NEXT YEAR. It's really been fun-
LOVE always Staci C.

I've learned a lot these last two years I'd never otherwise have learned. I'll miss the stress with you and the late Thursday

To everything
There is
A season
And a time
For every Purpose

A time
To weep
And a time
To laugh

Mrs. Armstrong
Hasn't it been a fun year?!
I've enjoyed being one of your students the last two years & I look forward to next year. God
Bless you - He loves you.
May you always have the things that make you happy. Have a good summer.
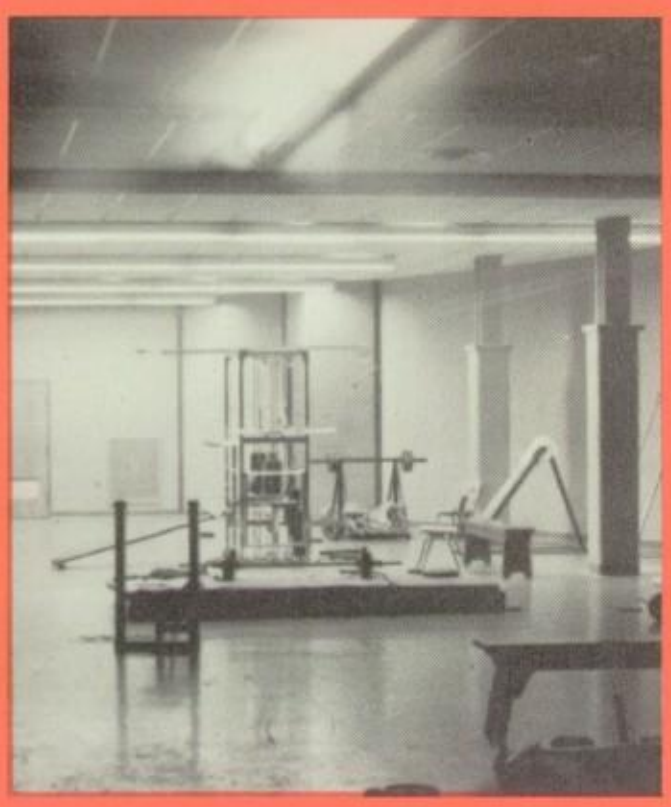
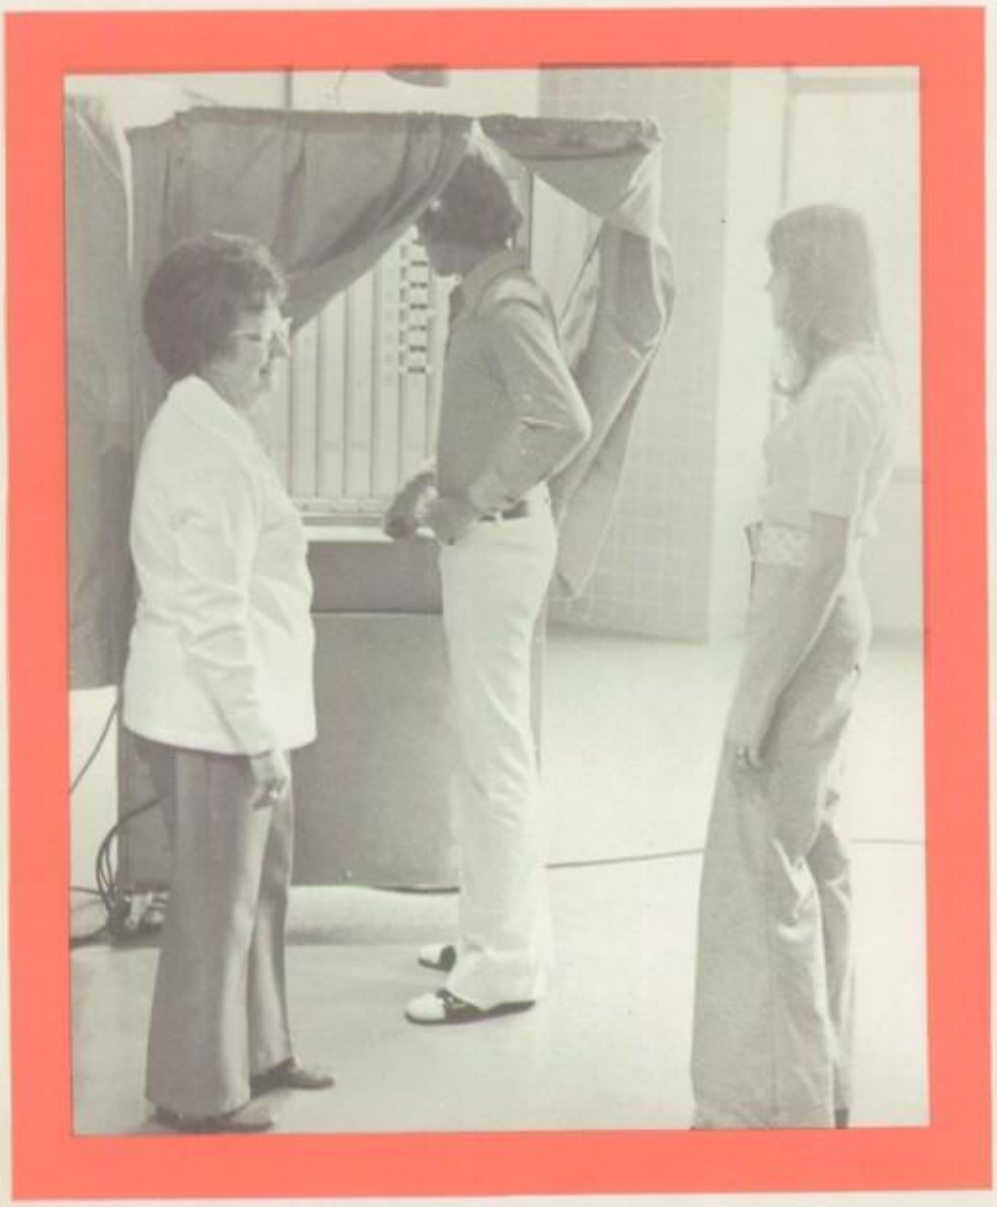
Kathi Blosch



A time
To break down
And a time
To build up



A time
To keep silence
And a time
To speak

To every thing there is a season, and a time for every matter or purpose under heaven:
2 A time to be born, and a time to die; a time to plant, and a time to pluck up what is planted
3 A time to kill, and a time to heal; a time to break down, and a time to build up;
4 A time to weep, and a time to laugh; a time to mourn, and a time to dance;
5 A time to cast away stones, and a time to gather stones together; a time to embrace, and a time to refrain from embracing;
6 A time to get, and a time to lose; a time to keep, and a time to cast away;
7 A time to rend, and a time to sew; a time to keep silence, and a time to speak;
8 A time to love, and a time to hate; a time of war, and a time of peace

Ecclesiastes 3, 1-8

Seniors
We finally made it.
Starting off our year as usual,
we hit the books,
teachers trying to get us ready for college,
colleges swamping us with mail,
we never had a dull moment:
Working on our class play of The Heiress, getting time off work
to see our school in football and basketball games,
our equilibrium couldn't be matched.
Leading the way in the paper drive,
always decorating our cars before games,
we showed other schools
what it meant to be a Cardinal.
Sending the sophomores to the sixth floor was no doubt the most fun we had.
Planning of Senior follies, commencement or Prom wasn't as easy job,
but we did it as no one else could.
The Senior way of life isn't easy, but we passed.
And now it's time to leave as East Central Senior High School closes the doors on the Class of '75.

It seems like only yesterday
when we first entered school.
We entered barely knowing our ABC's or our own addresses, but we progressed through twelve long years of school from learning how to write to doing mathematical equations.
Our last year in high school . . .
passing so fast.
Going to football and basketball games with friends we might never see again, playing in volleyball and basketball intramurals,
selling candy and going to dances and movies
soon to be the "Golden Oldies", ordering senior pins, senior pictures,
graduation gowns, and announcements . . .
kept us all pretty busy.
Days going by faster than what we realize until soon there's only a few days left,
trying to cram years into days,
we spent all our time talking about what we did.
Walking across that stage and getting that long looked for diploma,
looking at our friends,
some going to college-others to work.
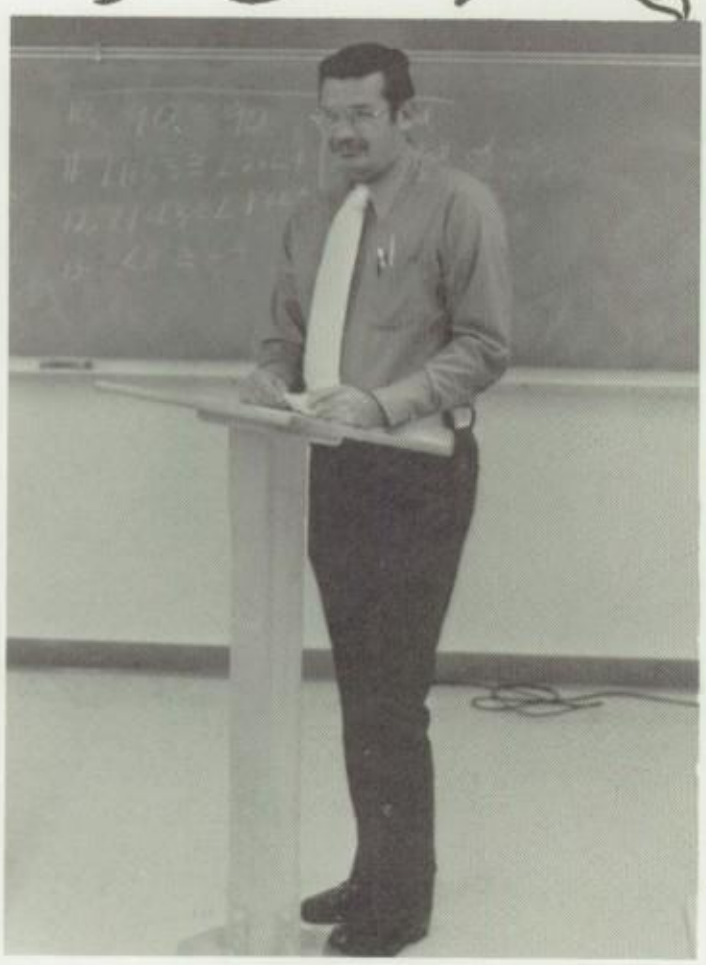
We've lived over a third of our lives learning how to live the other two-thirds,
and now that it's time to leave,
we'll never forget the happy days
we've all spent together.
When on May 29, 1975 at 6:30 p.m.
From the Civic Center
We graduated.



Jr. Class Sponsor, Mr. Younger, conducts Jr. Board.

Jr. Board: Sherrie Thomas, Tony Hamby, Dennis Beck, Brady Rohde, Laura Davis, Laurie Gulowseu, Bill Reynolds, Charles Graves, Madori Playford, Kathy Buchanan, Elise Edison, Rosalind Bibb, Randy Frenier, Gigi Tucker, Martha Slankard, Teresa Durbin, Dawn Archer, Kent Shelby, Brenda Thompson, Cheryl Steinsiek, Gina Waters, Jill Pravan, Cindy Weigt, Cindi Hardring, Debi Holcomb, Debbie Yount, Denise Nichols, Tonya McCrary, Joe Allen, Mike Perry, Teresa Stone, Loma Hash, Bob Darby, Kim Patterson, Dana Rawlinson, Susan Cole, Connie Gann, Cathy Lillard, Vanessa Kisselburg, Susan Lamm, James Jackson, Clifford Ginn, Renee Counts.

Jr. Class Officers: James Jackson, Clifford Ginn, and Susan Lamm.

Here you are juniors,
you're past that awkward feeling of being a sophomore,
and not yet a head-strong senior,
but just thrown in the middle of all the mass confusion.
Many of you own cars now.
You found out then you had to get here pretty early for a parking space or settle for a long hike
from the parking lot.
And there was an added speciality
for senior rings this year,
the Spirit of '76.
And then there's the all time favorite "mug shots" or as most of you know it, Junior pictures.
Now that you've spent all your money,
it's time to make some, : basketball concessions,
Junior class's biggest money making project,
for your senior prom.
Spring break is exactly what it says it is, the last break before you come back to become what it took you eleven years to finally achieve, the title of actually being a Senior.
And it will all be over before you know it.
It's quite a change.

A Time To Begin

Leading the Class of '77 are Monnie Webb, Vice President; Lea Ann Parks, President; and Melissa Freeman, Secretary.

A new year, a new school, new teachers, new friends, new spirit, new responsibilities ... Welcome Sophomores to East Central High School. To begin with, we elected our Sophomore class officers and board members. According to Mr. Lefler, Sophomore class sponsor, the officers "always take the initiative instead of waiting on me ..." First, there was the Sophomore attendant-to-Miss East Central IX-elections, won by Stacee Smith. Then came the Sucker Sale: Gain three pounds-support the Sophomore class! Because of loss of money last year, Mr. Lefler decided against a Sophomore play this year. But money was made by other means: a car wash, car bash, pickle sale, and by selling concessions at the E. C. wrestling tournament and all home matches. Other activities were Christmas carolling and taking fruit, cookies, and candy to the Broken Arrow Nursing Home, and visiting children in hospitals. Now that the year's gone, we can look forward to starting a new one next September with old friends, a renewed spirit, and the responsibilities of being a Junior.

Change of Honors

Miss East Central IX
Carol Marple

Carol was elected by students to reign as Miss East Central IX for 74-75. She has been active in our school since her sophomore year, when she was president of her class. A member of Thespians, Carol has had part in practically all plays put on by the school. This year, Carol is president of National Honor Society, committee chairman for Student Council, on Senior Board, plus a number of other activities. Carol Marple deserves the honor given her as Miss East Central IX.

Kenita Kern

Band Queen 1974-75

Kenita Kern was elected as 1974-75 band queen in an all school election. Kenita was junior attendant to band queen last year. She has played the flute in the symphonic band for the last three years and has been a majorette since her sophomore year. The band and students have made a fine selection for this year's 1974-75 band queen.

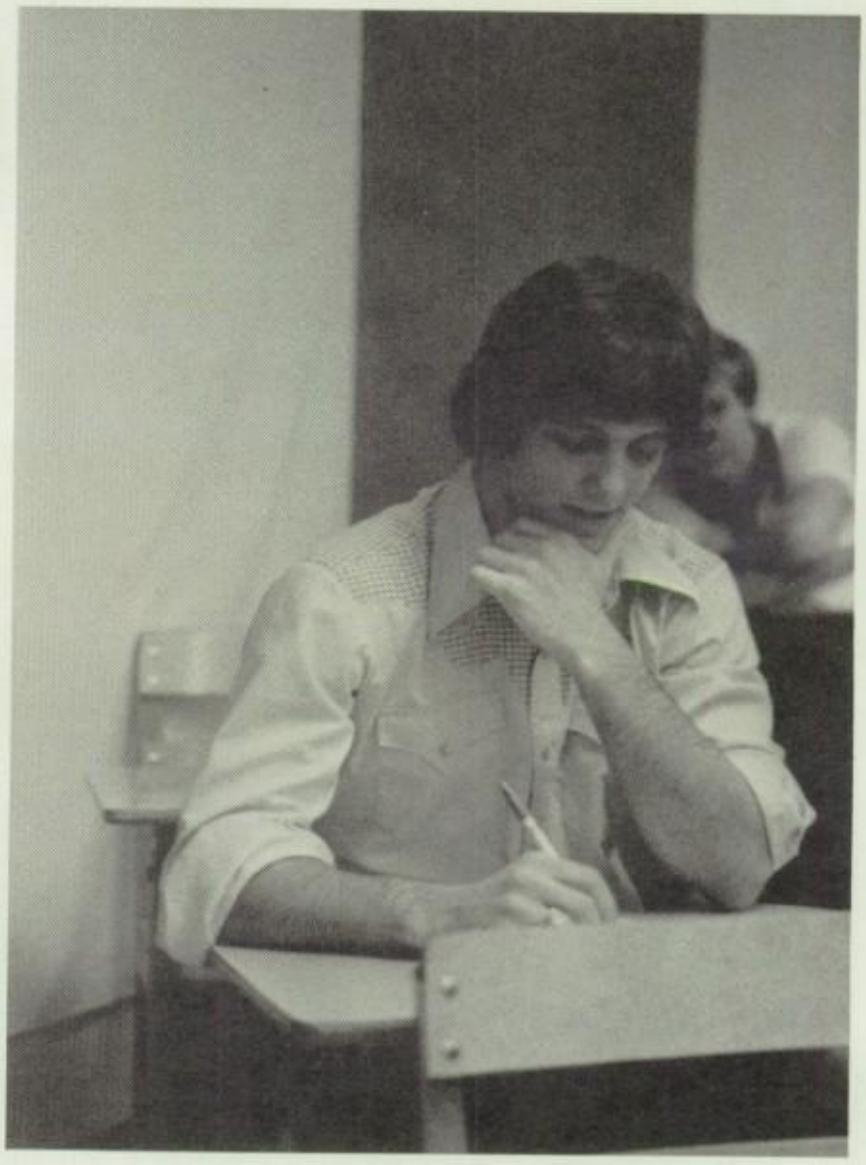
Attendant Vic Harris

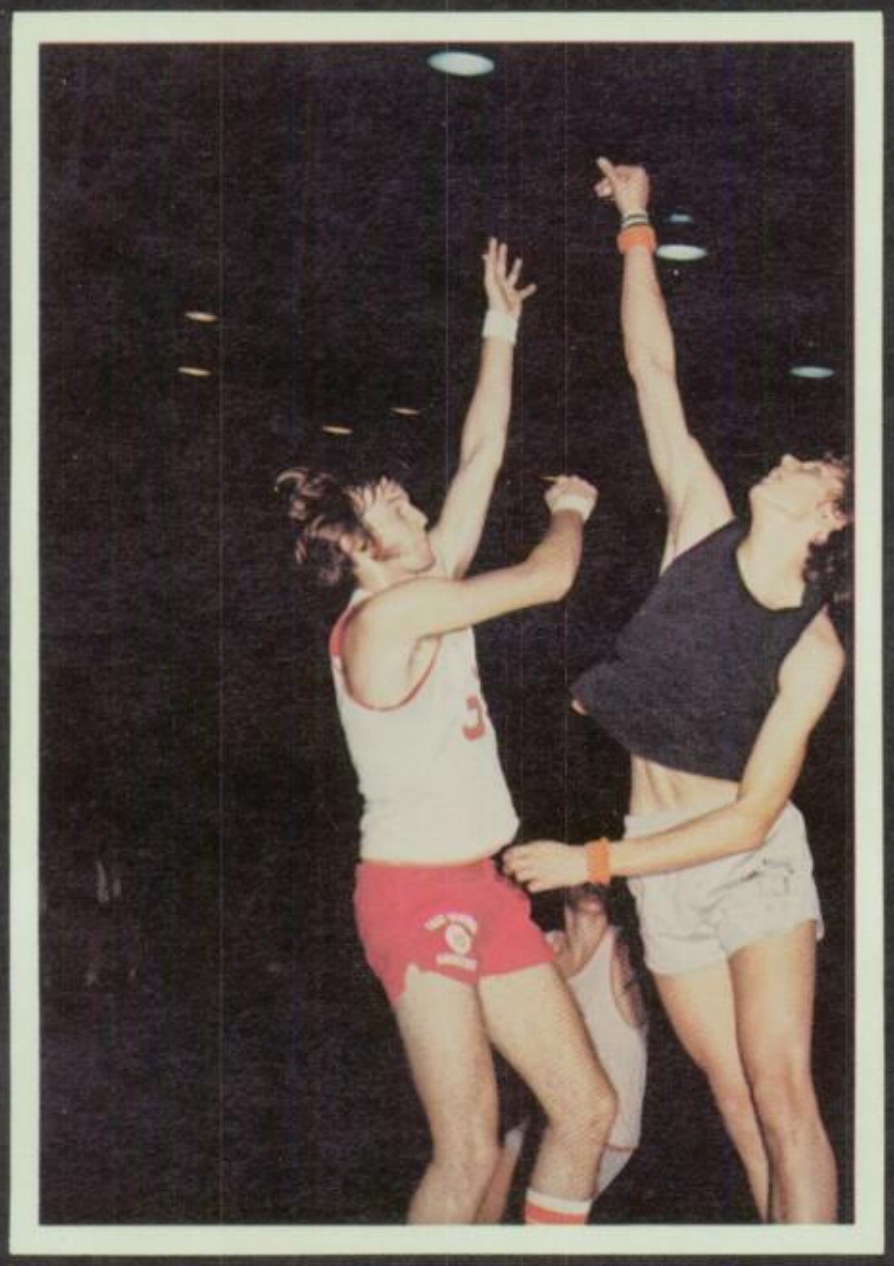
Part of the tension is in the introduction. Candidates Mitch Freeman, Preston Geis, Vic Harris, Mark Hutchens, Monty Jones, and Brent Miller appear in a Mr. E. C. assembly.

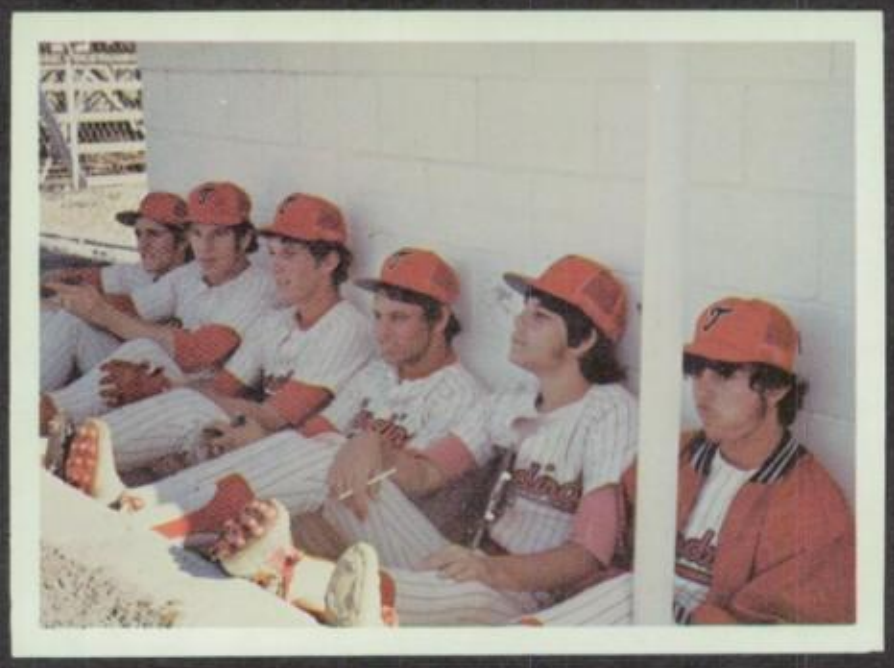
Attendant Brent Miller

Mr. East Central IV: Mitch Freeman



Academician as well as athlete, Mitch strikes a characteristic pose while taking notes.





Change of Pace

'74 Edition Of Big Red Football

The Cardinal Defense rammed through Muskogee's line repeatedly, sacking their starting quarterback. After another hardhitting play, Muskogee's QB was solemnly rescued off the field at Lafortune Stadium.

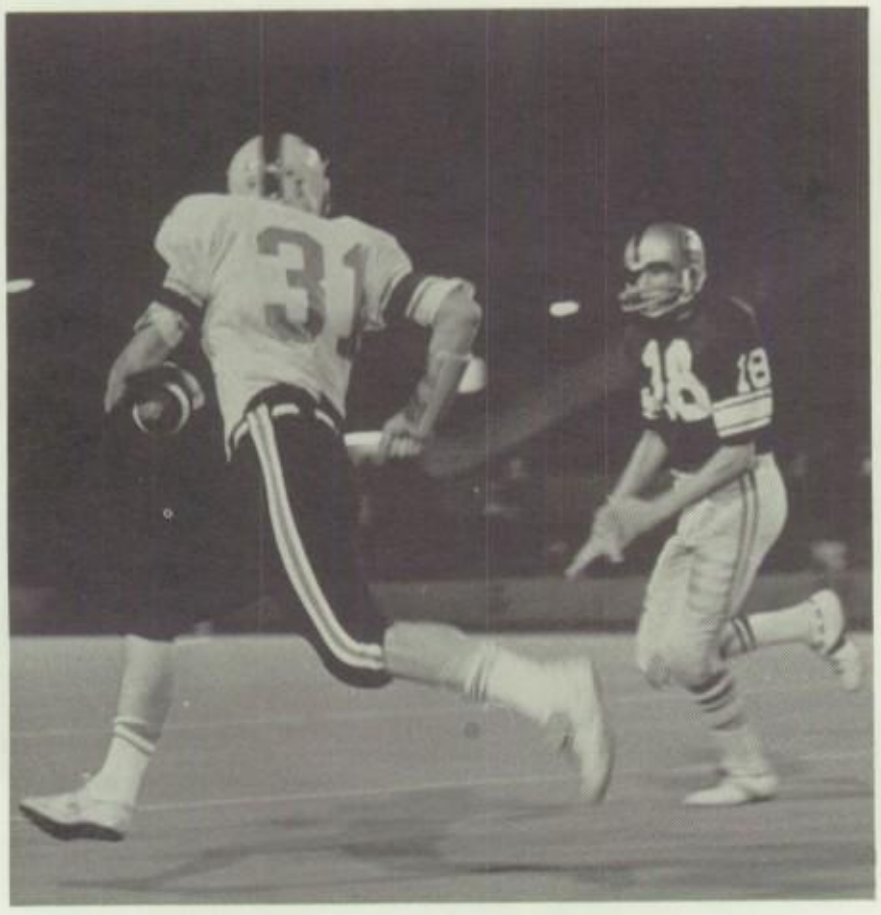
Though not a winning season, we never went down in shameful defeat. The Big Red Machine fought hard each Friday night dual.

What we lacked in weight and experience, we replaced with dedication and toughness. We planted pride in the rest of the school; our spirit was contagious. We finally got it all together against the outsiders—Muskogee and Broken Arrow. Here the enthusiasm and respect for our E.C. were shown on the battlefield as well as in the grandstands. The long two and three-a-day practices, chalk talks, and meat grinding drills shaped together a union of those with talent, and those willing to suffer, learn and develop their talent.

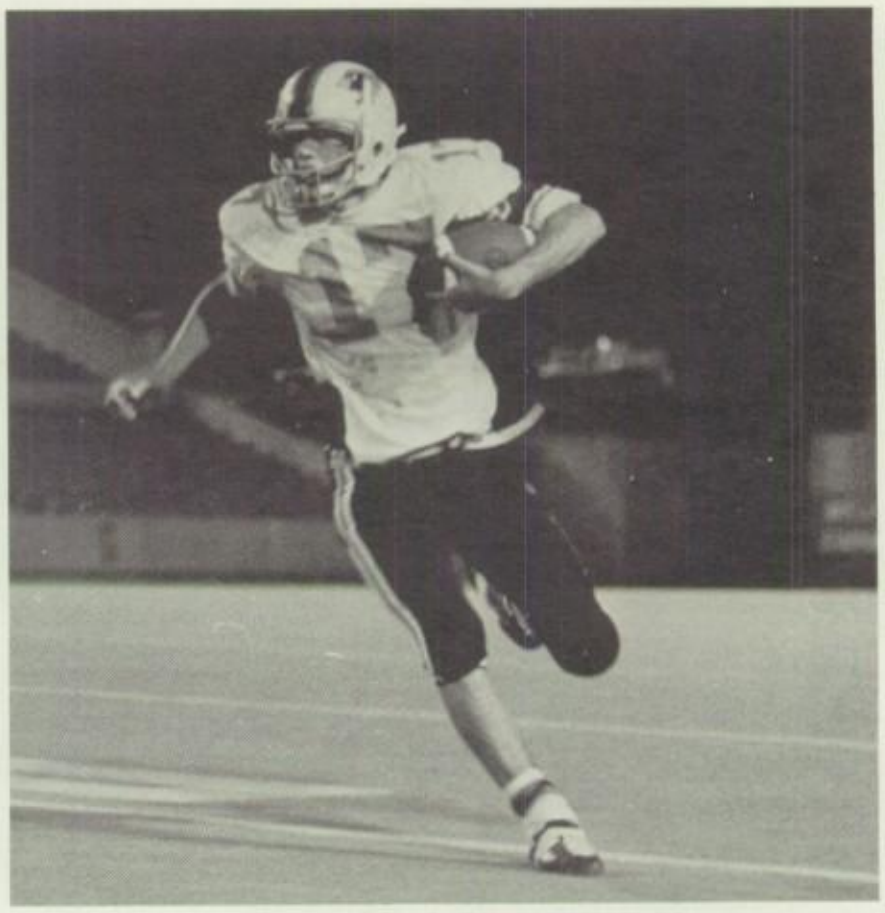
With high hopes for the next upcoming season, the Fighting Cardinals begin working toward a goal of winning and superiority in 1975.

The Cardinal Defense again smothers another Muskogee Rougher.

We Gave All We Had— That's What Counts



Mark Dorris sweeps the end as Bippus of Hale tries to put on the stop.



Brent Miller breaks into the clear and starts up field for an exciting run.

Mike Easley (32) breaks through the line for another big gain against Muskogee's Roughers.

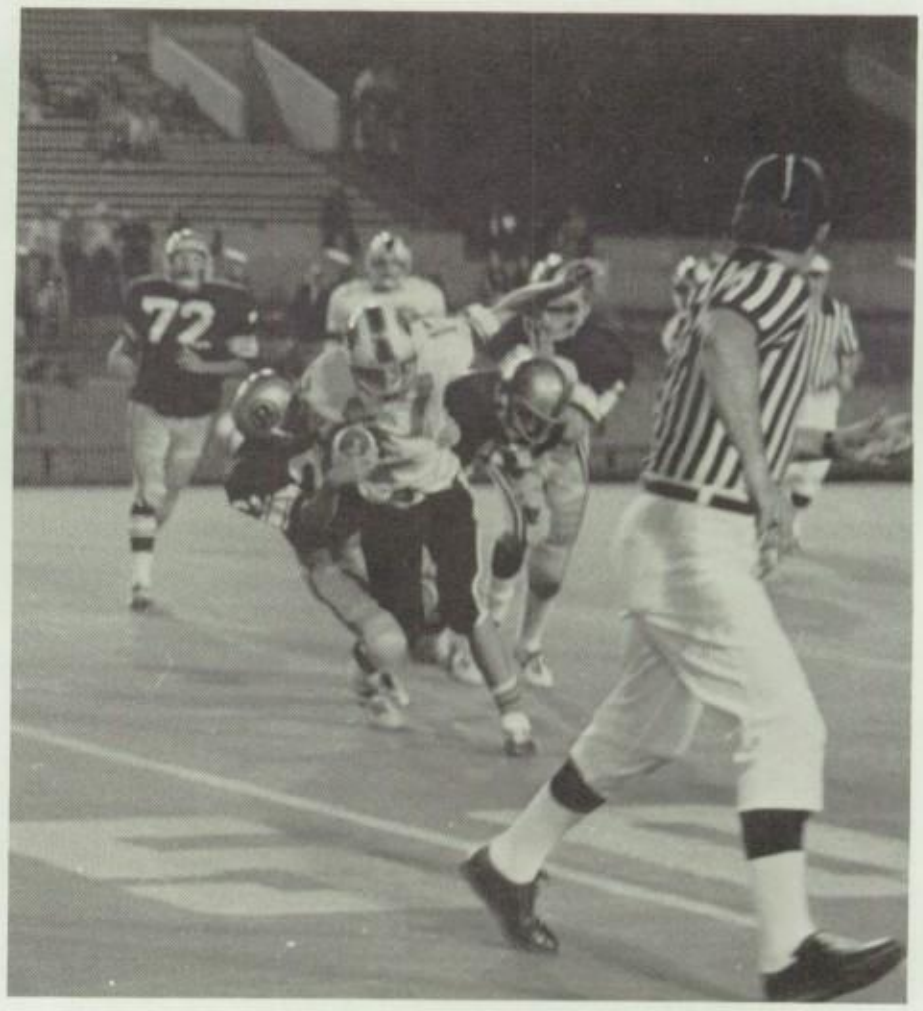
The Big Red offense plunges over for another score.

The tough defense holds again with bone-jarring methods.



Brent Miller shows another good job against Hale.

How sweet it can be!!

Com on Cardinals! Get tough now! We can do it! We are the Best!

'75 Cardinal Cagers

We were Coach Stephen's puppets shaped and geared for the '74-'75 basketball season with high expectations and cancerous enthusiasm. It took months of practices in an empty gym, constant sprints that nearly run you to the ground, performing plays until everyone could do it forwards and backwards, miles of laps for making mistakes, some chewing out and some building of confidence before the team was ready to meet the challenge. After losing the opening games to the "Green Wienies" and the Chargers, we rebounded to devastate Sapulpa, Hale, Enid, Webster and Ponca City. An overtime game loss to the Ropers ignited a feeling for revenge which we later fueled by once more burning Hale. Pride and a grudge stormed us back to Memorial. After seesaw scoring action down to the wire, the buzzer wailed and the show was over. In anger we arrived—in ecstasy we departed. Back home in the Big Red Gym we shut down Will Rogers and placed second in our conference. We were an evenly distributed team without any one-man-team superstars. A good arrangement of scoring and rebounding from Jeff Brown and Bruce Binkley kept the court filled with excitement for our hardy fans. Going to the regionals we carried a modest 10-11 season record. The sophomore team molded out by Coach Corbitt promises us next year another season of excitement as five good prospects team up with varsity returners like Garrison and the "Big Bink."

Bruce Binkley, with a 6' 6" edge, won the tip-off against Sapulpa in a home game.

Senior Bo Atkinson takes a free throw against Webster in a non-conference game.

All our hardy fans flocked to the games and put their support and ideals to work as the "Great Battle of the Bleachers" carried on.

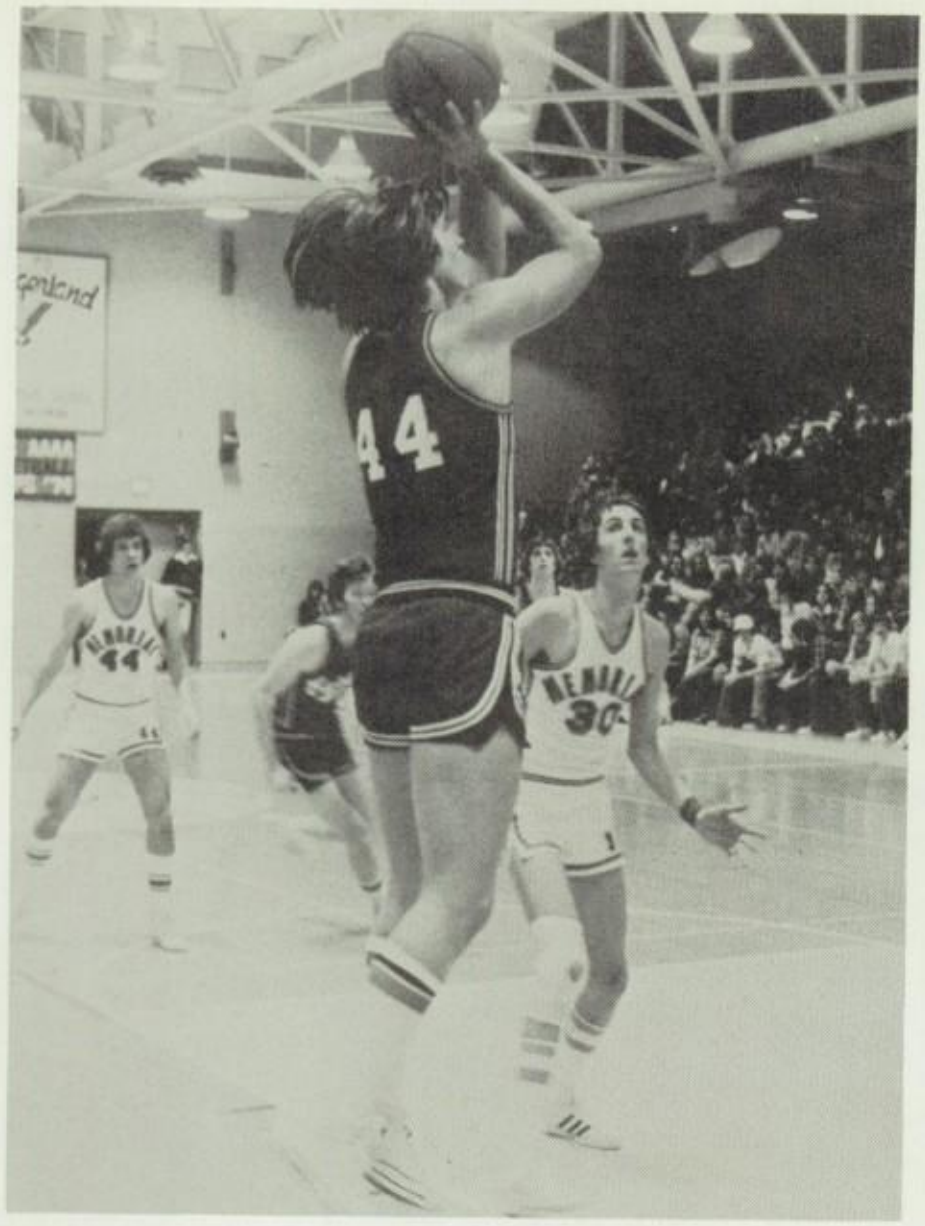
A lot of team effort in hectic traffic got this shot in against Webster.

Bo Atkinson battles with his opponent at Ponca City for a fast break and layup.

Robert Todd edged in this bucket against Memorial despite their standard shove.

Vance "Goldie Locks" Garrison displays some crafty sharpshooting with little challenge from a Sapulpan Chief.

Terry Day connects with another well-earned basket against Memorial in the rematch conference game.



Jeff Brown was the leading Senior scorer. Here "Elroy" felt right at home as he fired a shot from the outside corner.

Coaches Stephens, Lefler, and Corbitt, all true basketball stars in their own time, concentrating on the game with perhaps a desire for a piece of the action.

Bryant Coffman, senior forward, delivers a right-hand shot for two points.

Terry "Dumpy" Day dribbles enroute to a 56-55 rebound victory over the Chargers.

"Big Bink" lays it on Central in the All City with one of his "mile high" shots.

Cardinal Matmen—#3 In State!

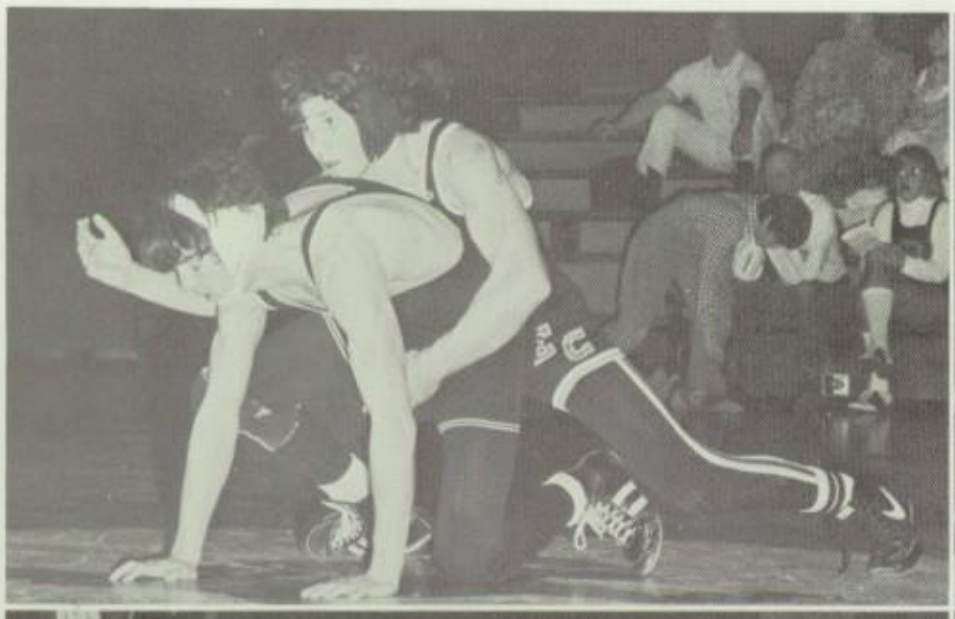
Takedown, reverse, shoot through, banana split . . . all the way to 2nd place in conference and 3rd in state. Led by experienced seniors, our guys superior decisioned and pinned their way through probably East Central's best season in our wrestling history, along with what maybe our finest team ever. We ran our record to 12-0 with a right nice win against some school called Hale 32-14. Just like them we breezed through every other opponent until Ponca City, which with a little help from the refs, we lost 24-22.

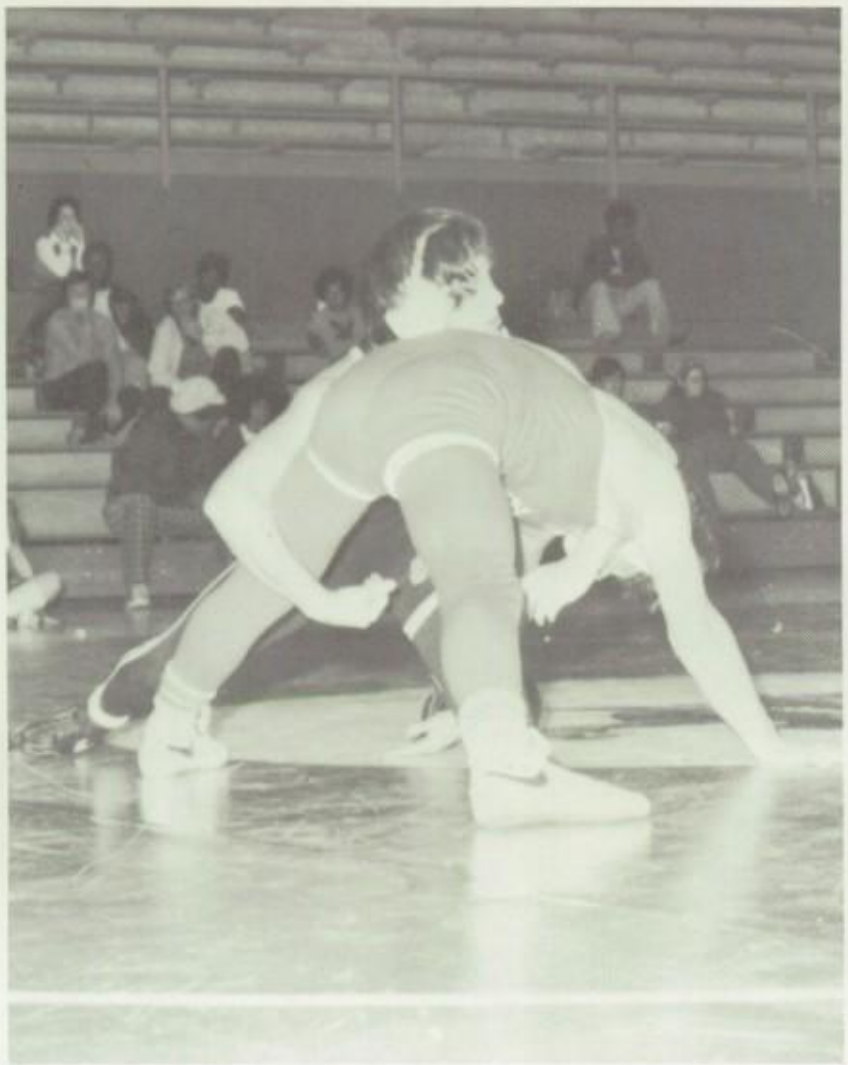
Storming our way through regionals to first place and revenge against Ponca City for the earlier upset loss, we were ready for state with 9 qualifiers, not bad for a bunch of old "country boys."

State started good until a nightmare loss against Doug McHenry. But being the greats we are, we kept our composure, and with gold medalists Donnie Wilkerson (157) and Mark Dorris (Hvywt.), we placed third in state, 3½ points out of first. a great showing by our boys.

To Coach Graddy and his "Graddy bunch," your loyal Card fans say congratulations on a fine job, we're awful proud of you.

Chalk one up for the Cards and Randy Winsworth.





Mitch Freeman, 148, prepares to break down his man at the East Central Tournament, December 13 and 14.

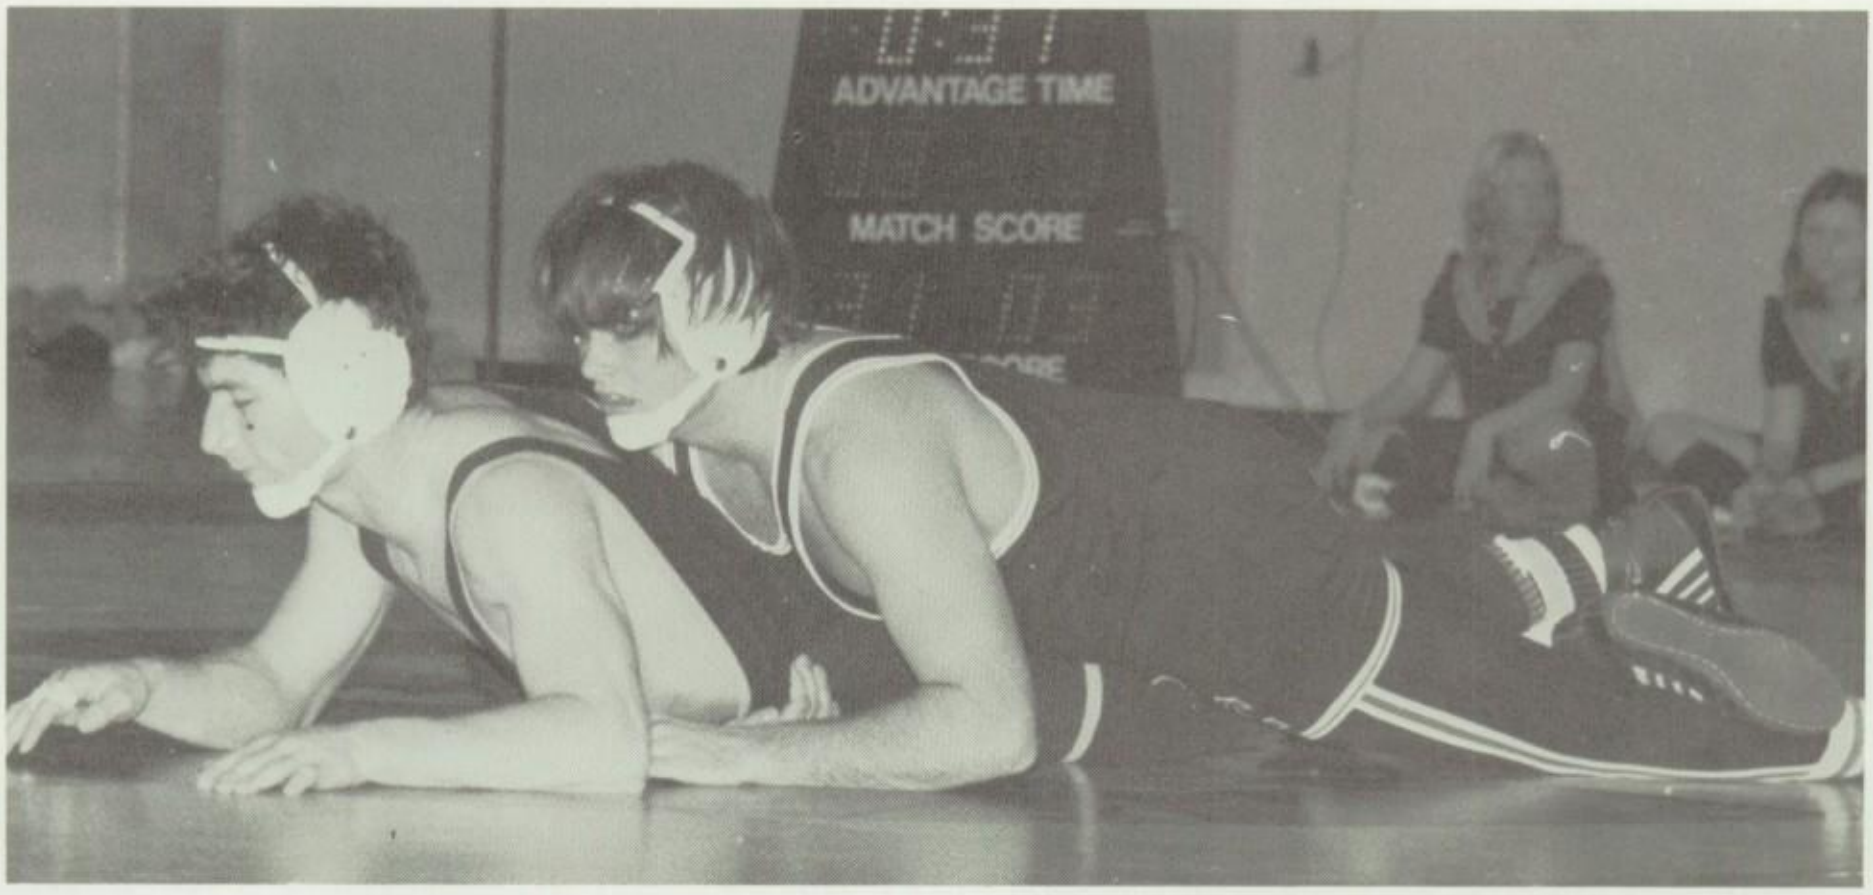
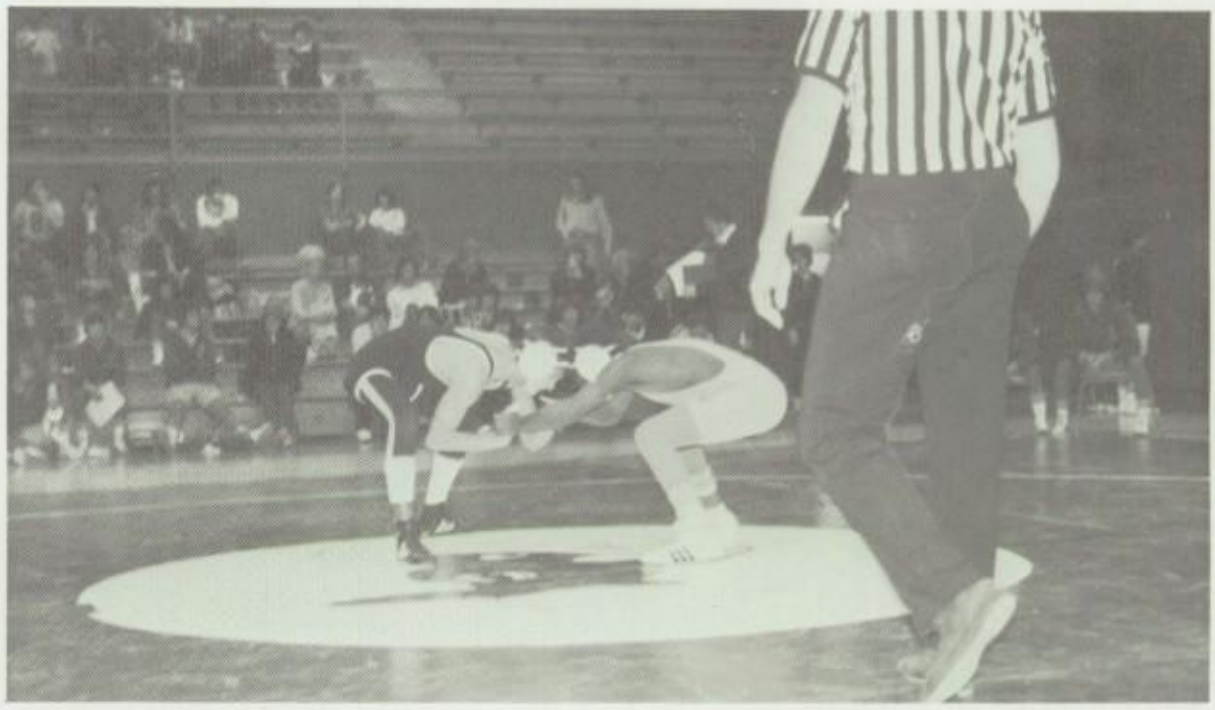
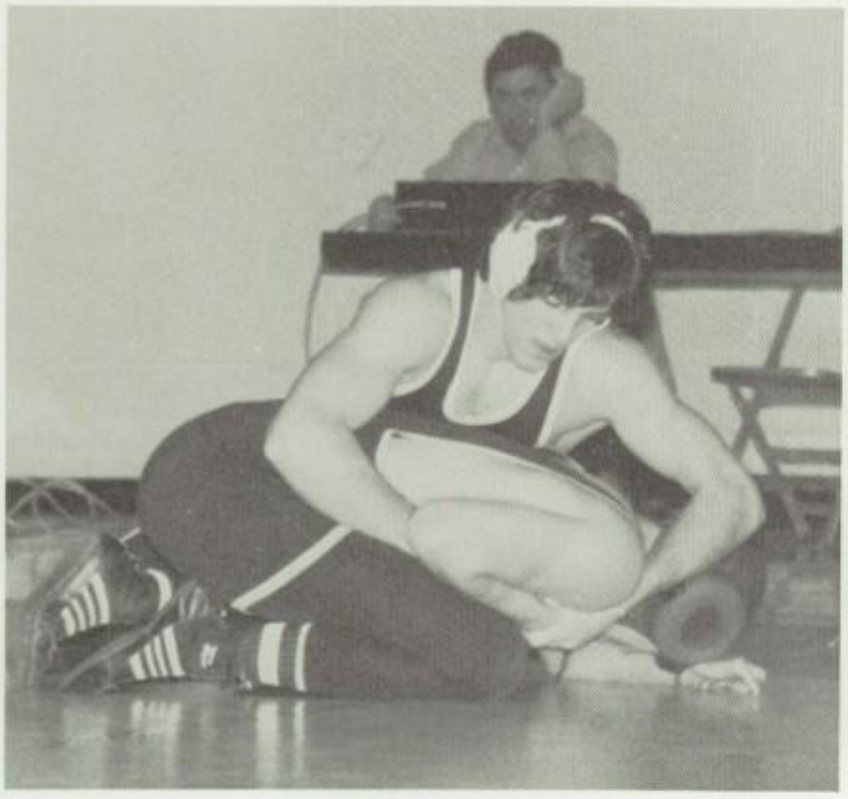
Randy Winsworth, 130 pound wrestler, moves into place to roll his man over.

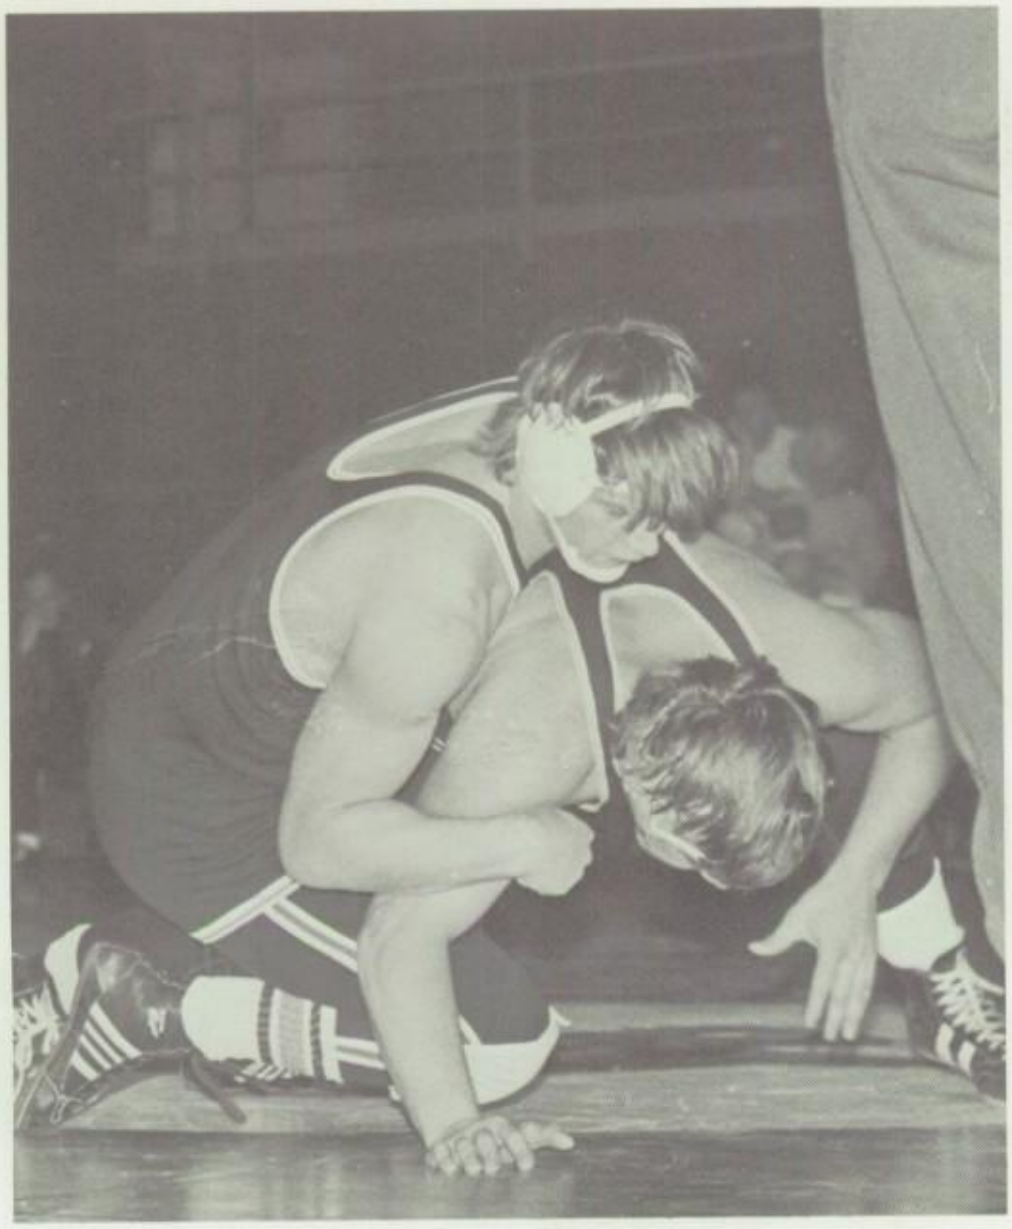


Sherman Mozingo, a consistent winner at 167, is well on his way to another win against Broken Arrow.



Tommy Burnett, 141, moves into position for a take down.





Mark Dorris sets up for another win.

Cardinal Fish '75

Once again East Central produced a winning season in competitive swimming. Our swimmers again enjoyed victory, and withstood defeat. The tragedy of being defeated by one point against Nathan Hale was well equalized by annihilating Ponca City by 3 pts. The team effort, Clarks genius, and the inner spirit in each individual brought about a season which could be looked upon with pride. Breaking a school record in the 160 I.M., Preston Geis was this year's most outstanding swimmer. Every swimmer showed remarkable improvement and dedication. Swimming is not a gifted sport; you're not born a good swimmer; it's an honor which must be earned. Stinging eyes, chilled blood and the agony of strenuous competition was well worth the result.

E. C. Countrymen

Cross Country—what is it? A test of individual effort, pride and sheer determination; three miles of hard strenuous physical competition; It is not jogging; it is a sprint off the line with many athletes continually fighting for their goal-a better time, and first place. Who gets first? The individual who has disciplined himself and sacrificed the most. Our E.C. countrymen have shown personal dedication, pride, and guts. They may not be champions in the books, but they are heroes to the school.

Standing: David Hardesty, Tommy Robertson, Seated: James Jackson, Steve Scott, Gary Cheesebrew, Robert Haymes.

Dixie Haymes puts himself in high gear and then drives for the finish of a three mile victory race against Mason High.

What's this - another Dave Wottle on his way to the Olympics? No, it's James Jackson to the locker room.

Taking time to stretch out and joke around makes the long practices easier to endure.

Senior Dan Shook sends one back across the net with a smooth backhand.

Junior Keith Cambell reaches high to return a volley.

Tennis

Some of us worked year round, 2 to 4,
Listening to Coach Clark's tips on how to do it,
Knocking a fuzzy ball back and forth,
Hopefully to help us against teams like
Memorial, Edison, and Rogers:
Rubbing lots of balm on tight calves and sore arms,
Popping blisters on our feet. What a mess.
But it's part of our game.
And besides, we're kind of proud of what we did.

E.C. Tracksters

Long practices in the cold of winter with numb feet and icy ears, workouts becoming more strenuous as track season neared. A quick meeting for the days instructions, where Coach Ballard told his runners to take the long 5 mile warmup-then the regular workouts. Weekend workouts up to the individual. The season neared and a few individual supermen were now united into a team. The track meets were an event for the survival of the fittest. The gun sounds and the pain became automatic; the desire to finish first is all that mattered.

Before another track meet, Coach Larry Ballard asks for a little extra help.

Scott Meyers and Mike Austin both improved their time in the 110 hurdles. In this event Austin entered the state finals.

Bill Corbitt, Coach "Speedy", took care of the times and records for each track meet.

Speedster Brent Miller takes the handoff from Paul Ramos and ignites around the track in the mile relay. Brent also went to finals with a sub-50 second quarter mile.

Steve Day excelled in the 880 distance - spring event. Here he is shown leaping through the air during his broad jump event.

'75 Baseballers

Hitting, running, catching, and throwing. The four basic tools needed to be one of what many call our "nation's number one sport," and maybe a lot of guts and dedication considering frozen workouts in January and baseball practices and clinics on Saturdays, along with our prized and precious locks of hair being cut off by March 8. Some say we're crazy, others say it's too much to ask. It isn't really. There are more Saturday afternoons and more hair to replace the ones we gave to baseball. Our goal is always the same-work hard and bring home pride and a state champ to our school. With as many as five games in a week, sometimes more, and tough teams like Hale and Rogers in conference play, it's harder to make it all the way, but East Central's done it before, and hopefully someday soon with the help of Coach Lefler and Coach Smittle and fans, we'll do it again.

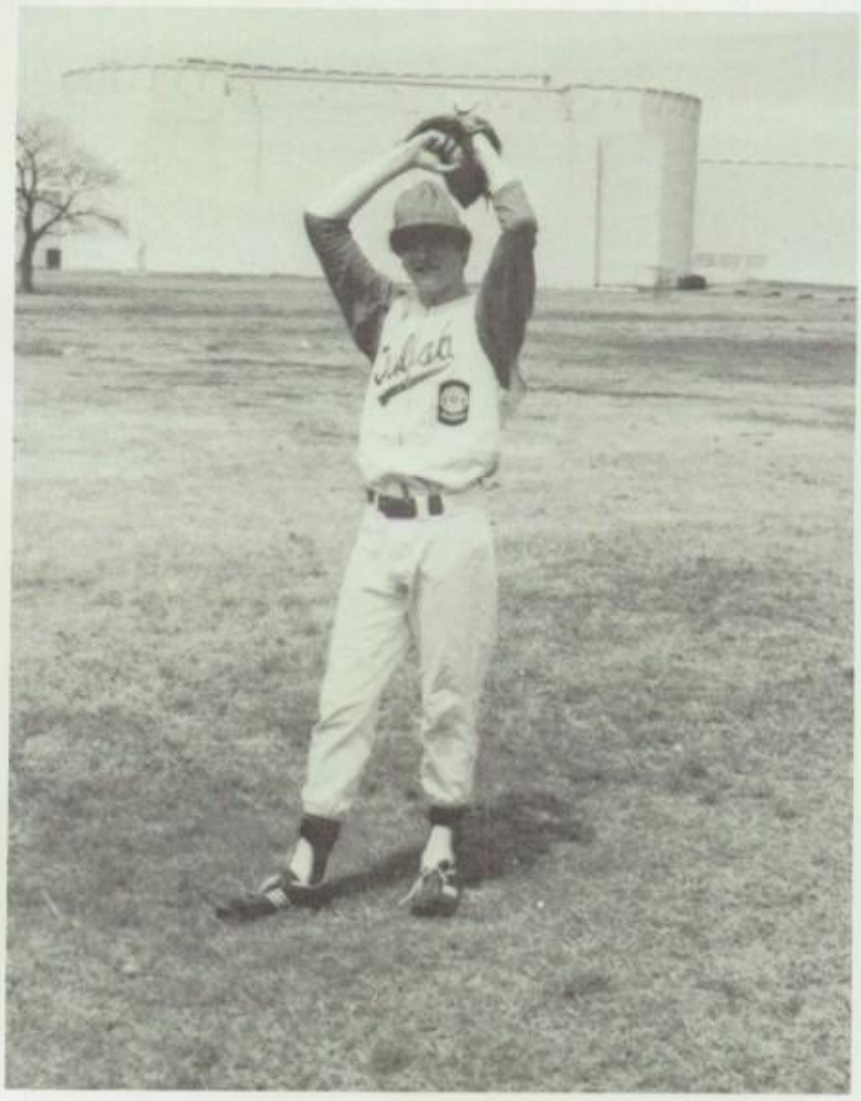
It sure takes a lot of concentration, but it can be really relaxing. 80 isn't bad, but 75 can win it, so that's what we work for. So that's it. It all adds up to the game of golf. Good job putter-men.

A Flashback of This Year's Sports

This page, the first ever of its kind, is devoted to all of East Central's fighting Cardinal athletes and coaches. These guys are something special, willing to work and play so hard it hurts for months after sometimes, just for our school's pride.

Your fans are there, whether football, wrestling, or baseball . . . fall, winter, and spring, but year-round appreciation comes easier than year-round work. So this is for you, athletes of East Central. We feel you deserve the recognition.



Change of Mind

Board Of Education

We don't see them in the halls very often, but these people are important to East Central. Our parents vote for them. In these changing times, parents are extremely concerned about how the schools serve young people of Tulsa, so Dr. Bruce Howell, Superintendent, and his seven staff members hold public meetings twice a month at the Education Service Center. With every year a critical one for decisions, Dr. Howell serves as a professional adviser to the Board on policy making and all matters pertaining to schools.

"Come on in" invites Principal J. W. Payne, our leading Cardinal booster.

A closer look

Mr. J. W. Payne

It's time for a change of thought about our principal, Mr. Payne. He really is human, like the rest of us.

From his years of teaching science, he developed a love of the woods and lakes. He likes fishing and boating, and he spends a lot of weekends at Tenkiller, year round, commuting with his 26 ft. Travel Trailer, riding his Honda Trail 90, communicating with his Citizen Band Radio. Although he has been principal of East Central for 19 years, not many of us knew he is such an out-of-doorsman.

Lake Tenkiller is a favorite spot on weekends for Mr. Payne and family. His travel trailer makes "roughing it" something for a sportsman to look forward to.

Assistant Principals

You would have a hard time believing the job of assistant principals, who are always standing by to fill in for the principal if necessary. Mr. Dorsch basically works with curriculum, teachers, school work study programs, such as I.C.E., C.O.E., and D.E., and all placements for Special Ed. He also plans lunch schedules, health exams, and school pictures, only part of his job. Mr. Smith acts as coordinator, scheduling assemblies, calendar dates to avoid conflicts, club officers and meeting dates. He works with the school and Education Service Center on attendance, making sure that students are in the proper district. Both men help students wherever possible.

Mr. Larry Smith, Assistant Principal in charge of Student Activities, finds that even though paper is scarce, there is always enough to keep him busy.

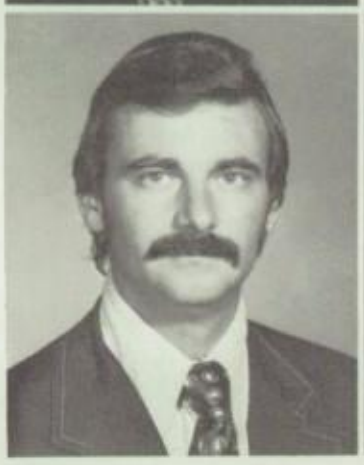
From the Civil Rights surveys to assembly chart seating, Mr. Dorsch and Mr. Smith carry a big load in the field of Administration.

Ready with a helping hand, Mr. George Dorsch, Assistant Principal in charge of Curriculum, is shown conversing with Bill Vining.

Counselors

From the beginning to end, A to Z in the student alphabet, 10th grade to 12th, September to May, counselors work towards making East Central students ready to face the world they choose, whether it be college or the work force.

Mrs. Kendall, Mr. Notley, Mr. Taylor and Mr. Stephens are academic and vocational counselors. Before school begins, they work on schedules designed to fit the individual's needs. After school begins, they start all over, changing schedules, helping students find their careers and the classes most useful to these careers. Mrs. Lloyd and Mr. Zachary are the girls' and boys' deans. They counsel all students and face a job that would seem impossible to most of us: that of keeping classes running smoothly. No wonder their goal is to have a calm year with no major upsets.



Sammie Kendall

Mr. Stephens, better known as "A-D" on the student alphabet, spends a lot of time conferring with parents.

She hears a lot of likely excuses, but here, Mrs. Lloyd, Dean of Women, seems satisfied when Susan Hanna and Stacy Bean report back.

Art

Art is the place to be if you want to talk your parents out of a pair of blue-jeans so you don't get your good clothes full of paint. We worked hard all year learning new skills and improving old ones in an effort to produce something truly unique. Trying new, innovative styles and techniques, we painted, sculpted, and used our minds to our advantage. Abstract paintings and silk-screen tee shirts showed off our work. Art is truly an imaginative class.

Just dabbling with paints or a budding Picasso, Mitch Freeman has no trouble convincing Mrs. Harrison that art is here to stay.

Mountains? Teepees? We're not sure what Tim Spiker is drawing, but he seems serious about his efforts at the drawing board.

Mrs. Wilson, surrounded by the tools of her trade, helps many other departments with her original sketches and designs.

Music

Music rooms are where it's "at" if you can carry a tune or read a note. Vocal music students get most of their practicing in class for those all-important state contests and school performances. Outside rehearsals are at a premium on a busy schedule. The traditional drive is the citrus fruit sale, which begins in November. The money helps out with music and supplies, but the major goal is for a grand piano.

The "Big Red Sound" of the Instrumental Music Department begins at the early hour of 7:00 every morning, during the first semester at least, as Marching Band members take to the field for practice. Fruit cake sales topped the money-raising projects, for band members had an eye on new uniforms. All groups join in the annual all-school musical.

Virginia Erbert

Terry Hartman

With the Pop Concert approaching, Mrs. Erbert's 3rd hour Concert Chorus songsters decide they could use some last minute rehearsals, just in case.

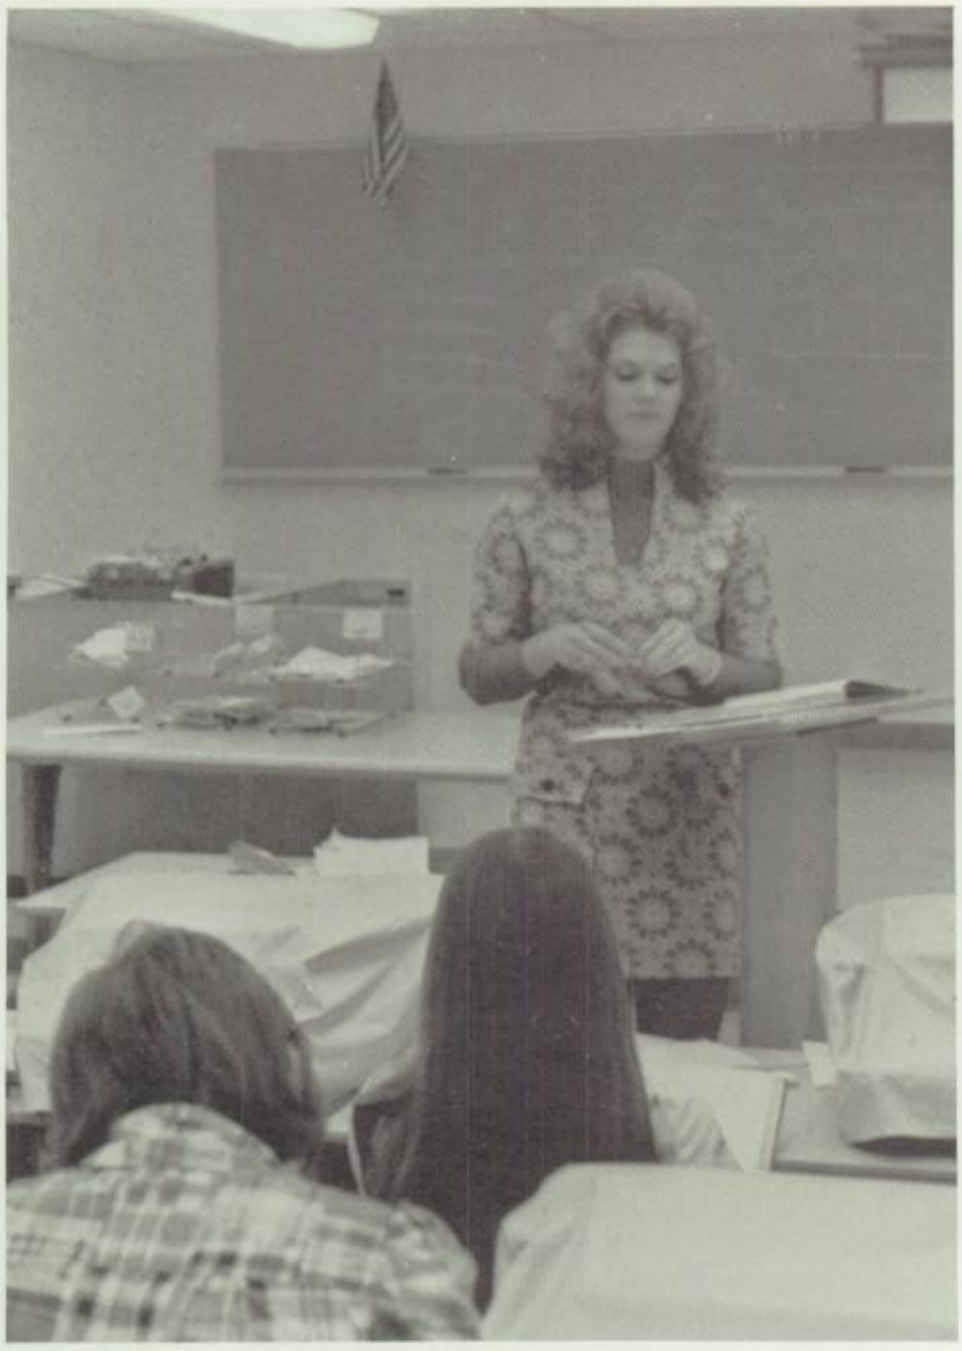
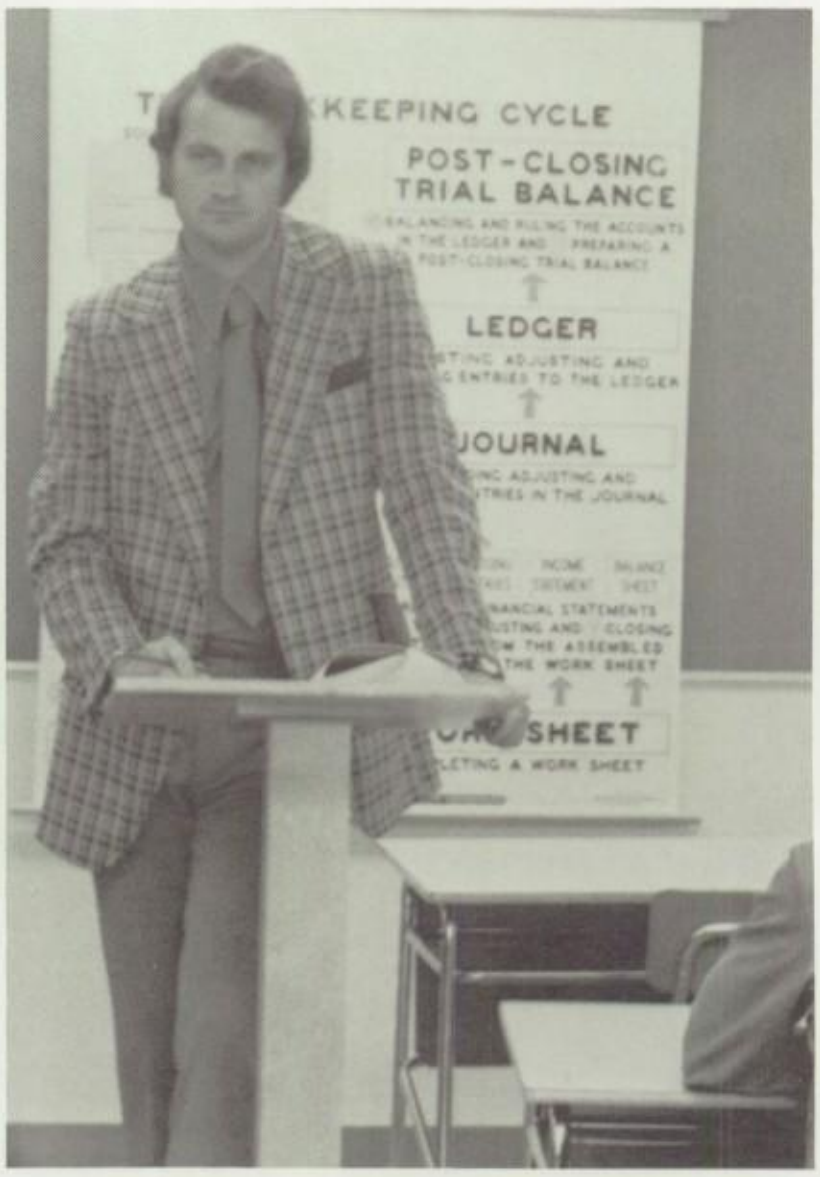
Business

Career or College?
Business students find a wide selection of practical courses to help them with part time jobs or skills to use in other classes: taking notes from fast-talking Mrs. Millier or typing "A and M" reports for Mr. Bell. Business Law, Office Machines, Accounting: anything we learn will help us after graduation. C.O.E., Cooperative Office Education, swung into its second year. Students attended class half a day, then worked in the office the other half. Mrs. Spybuck lines up jobs. Girls get paid and get credit; the employer helps train girls on the job. Employers are often civic minded and hire the girls as a community project for Tulsa.



"Dear Mr. Businessman: These girls are training for your office," could be a philosophy of Mary Ann Philpott, Shorthand and Transcription instructor.



The way to compete is to get prepared. Business Law or Bookkeeping, Rodger Lefler acquaints his students with the business world.

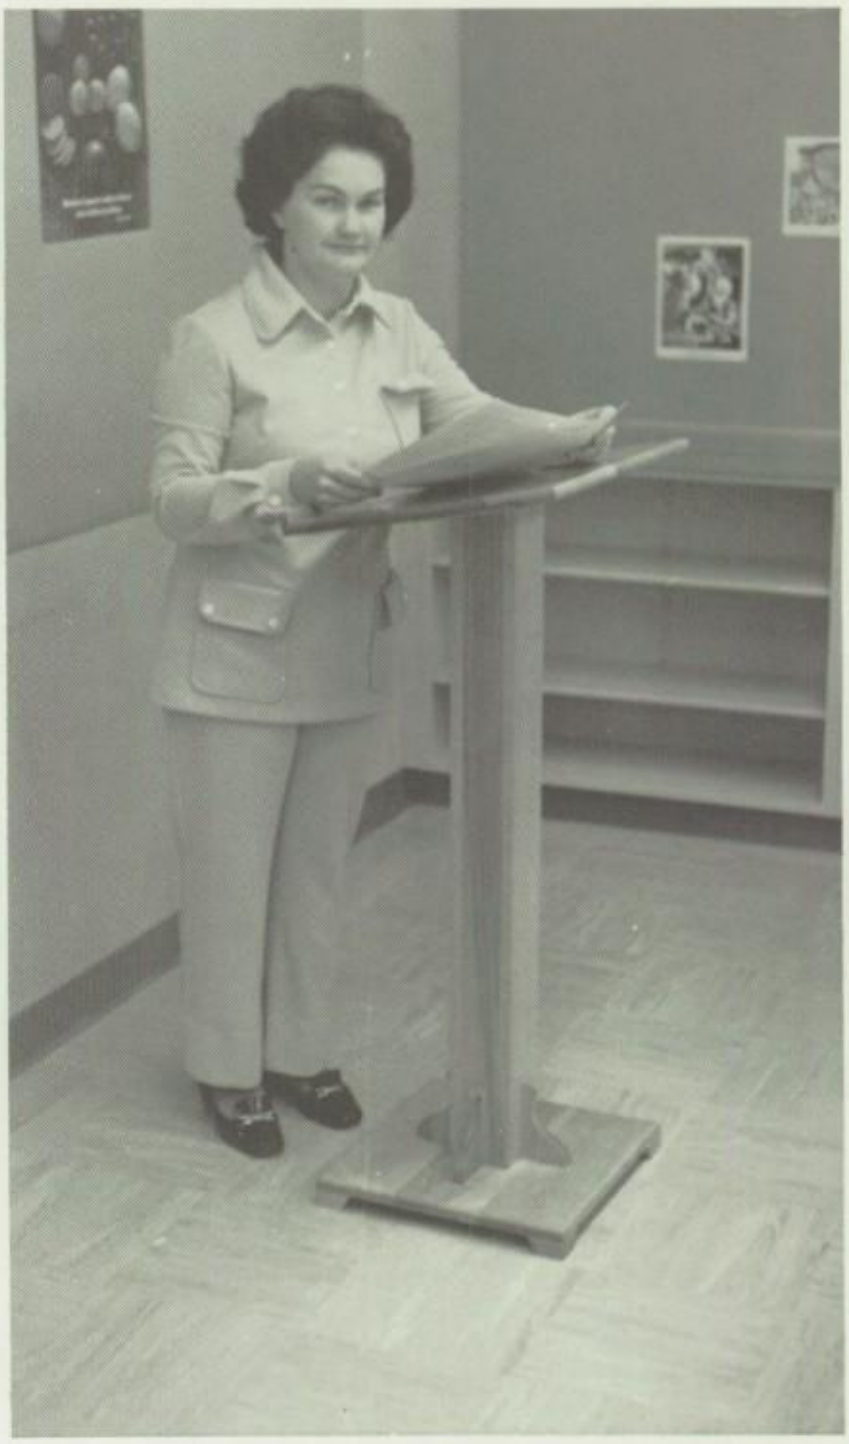
Known for the brevity of her meetings, Department Chairman Beulah Garrett remains a great favorite with the 15 English teachers she supervises.



One of the trailblazers in the Multi-Elective plan, Mrs. Julia Hope, teaches a range of subjects.

English

English, an old class we think we know all about, but yet it's the little things the teachers teach us. Teachers didn't get a look of appreciation as juniors were told of 10-page research papers, but students let out a sigh as the job was over. From American authors to European authors, we read all and studied all. Nobody could tell that the person sitting next to you was shaking because Macbeth's witches were out haunting during Halloween. English will always be around, so we might as well learn it now, adverbs and all, lest it makes us fall. Like Mrs. Garrett, we call it Universal.

"Yes, it really pertains to literature," insists Jackie O'Bar to dubious students Richard Golden and Sherrie Zumwalt.

Reading teacher Cathy Wilson explains the reading program to Kelly Snodgrass.

Convincing sophs that grammar is important can be a tough job. Norma Davis begins with nouns, pronouns, and verbs.

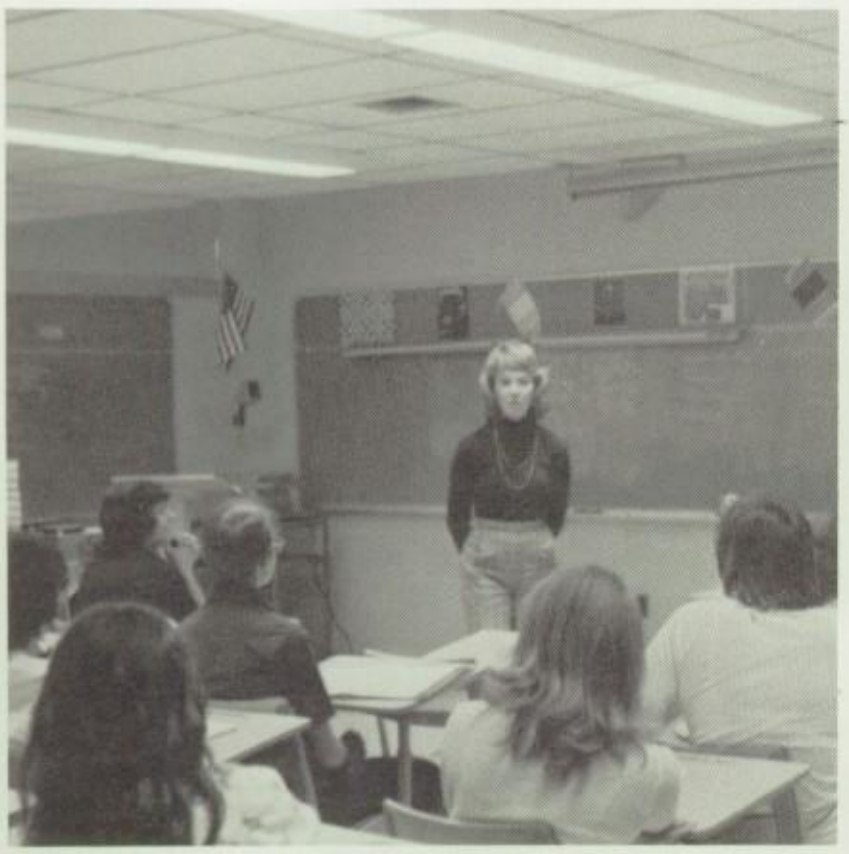
"But I really worked hard on that research paper, Mrs. Jackson," pleads Cheryl Chesbro.

Patty Dyer

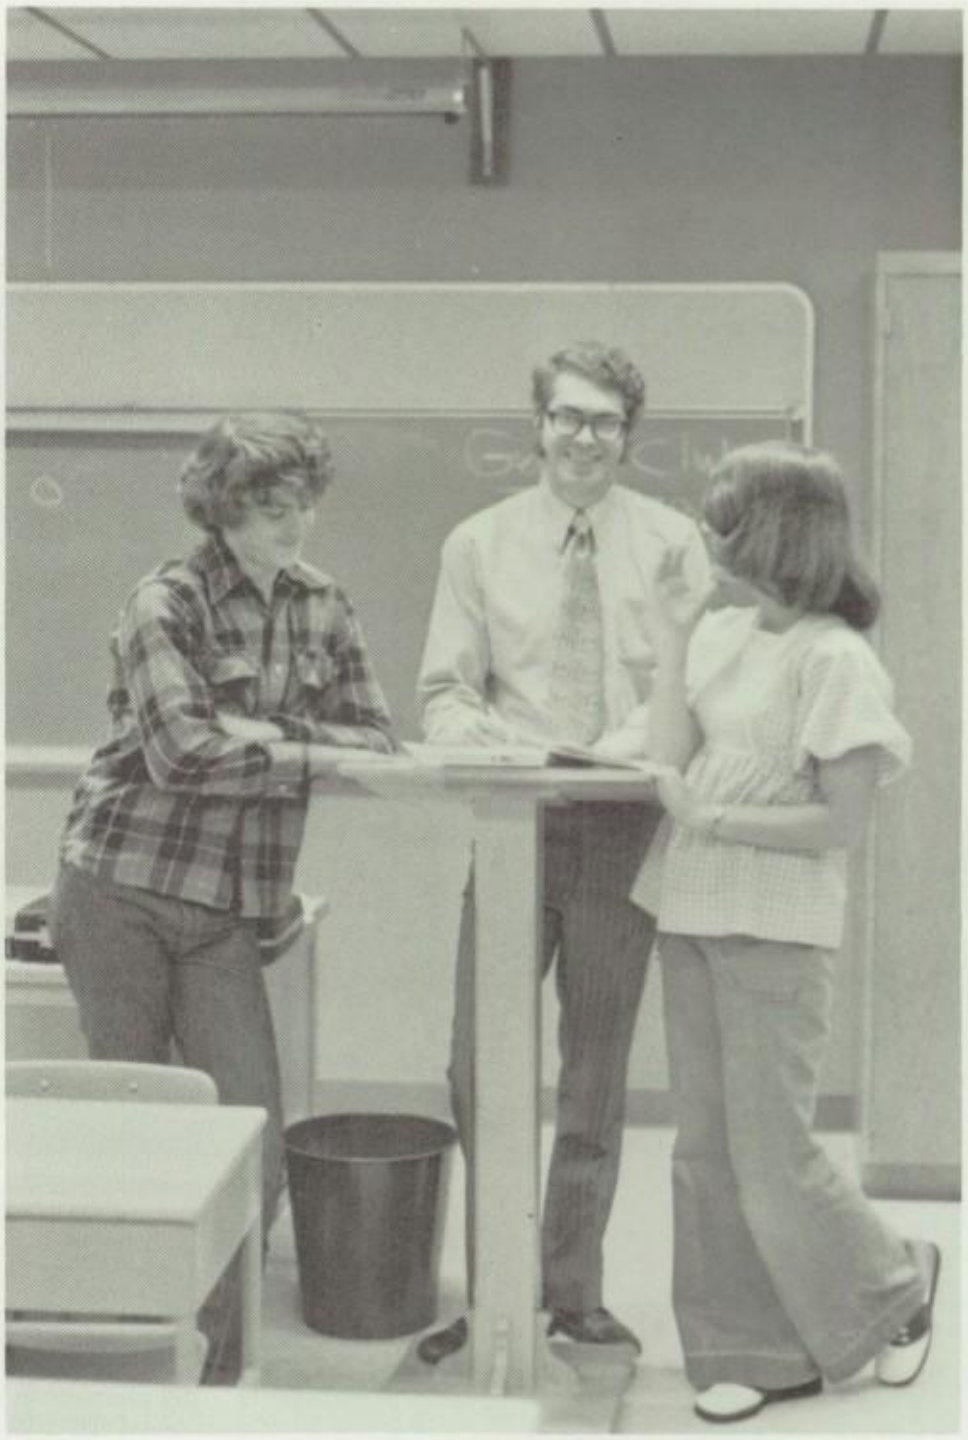
Suzanne Pharr

Ken Schulte

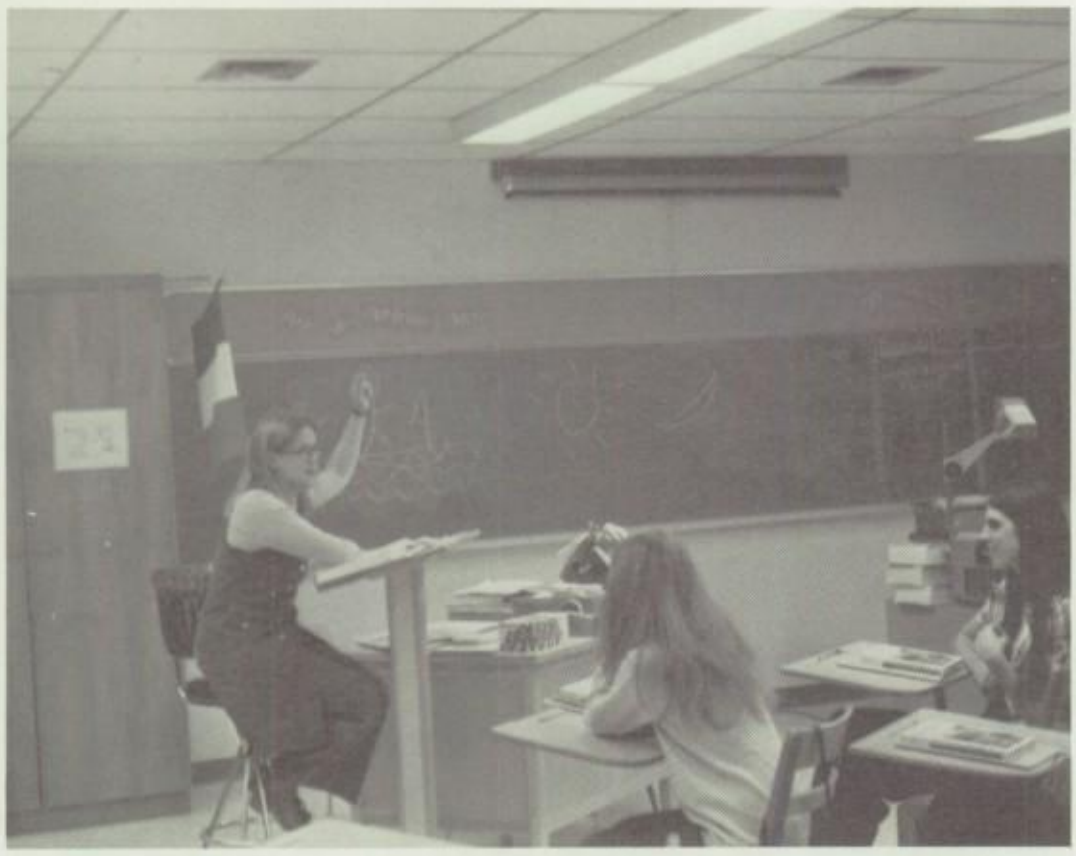
Florance Schupbach



If you learn Spanish, it will help you with your English. Here, Patti Dyer discusses with her 3rd hour Spanish students.



"Herr Schulte says German isn't that hard. Brian Beair and Laura Watkins seem inclined to agree.



"But I already understand. Raise your hands when you do," says Suzanne Pharr to her second year French students.

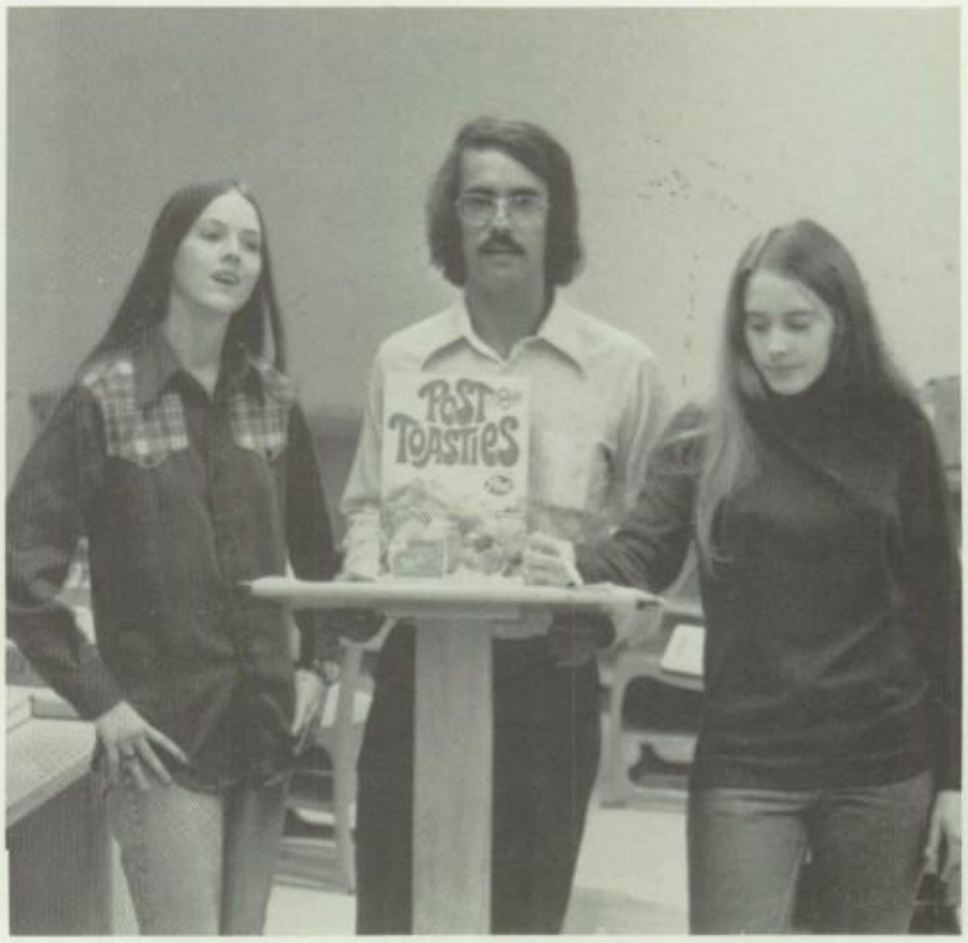
Foreign Language

Foreign Language is a deeper inside look at a foreign country, going through the halls reciting phrases: "Was gibt es zum Mittagessen?" "Allons au match de football!" "Esta terminada la clase?" We practiced conversation, reading, and new forms of grammar. We tried hard, always laughing at our silly mistakes. Tapes, films, and speakers: all helped us get a better look at our language, maybe studying to travel or just to learn some other language. It all paid off as our outlook grew broader with every Spanish, French, or German word we spoke. Whether we knew it or not, it helped us learn our own language as well.

"De que color es?" First year Spanish students translate "What color is this?" -red-, as Florence Schupbach holds up a variety of various colored pens.

Journalism

Journalism students started the year with a new paper, Cardinal Chronicle, and a new sponsor, Mike Phillips, but with the same old problems: how to put out an interesting paper on time. Mr. Phillips set three goals for the paper: to promote school spirit, to print school news, and to serve as a sounding board for student views and ideas. Cardinal yearbook staffers started Volume 9 with the theme "Time for a Change" and a light-hearted Cardinal on the cover. 22 members, including four photographers, put in a lot of overtime to meet the five deadlines. Was it worth it? You'll have to ask the juniors who will carry on next year with Volume 10.

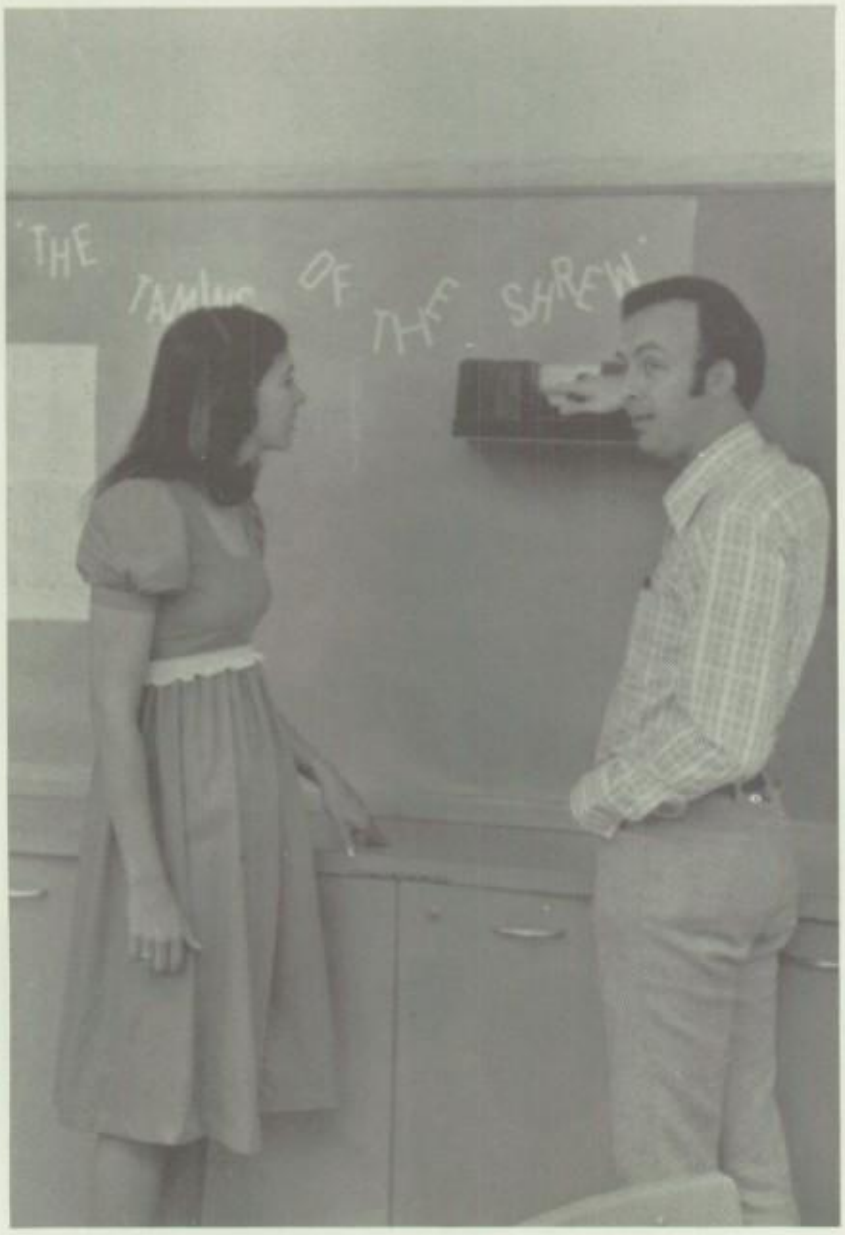


"We can do a lot for advertisers," agree Journalists Pam Sappington, Sponsor Mike Phillips, and Carol Marple.

Bonnie Maxwell and Teresa Pope maintain that a dash for the deadline and accurate typing don't mix.

Yearbookers catch the Spirit of the 50's as they mull over layouts.

"You mean this is our Index?" Yearbook Editor Sandie Heath seems less concerned than Sponsor Jan Armstrong.



Randy Blair and Liz Sanders discuss casting for East Central's 2nd Shakespearian production.

Drama

Speech: the starting of actors and lawyers.
Scares and jitters were always a part of Speech, but we believed in what we were doing and tried our best. Radio and TV came alive as we laughed at our own skits.
Learning of early playwrites and actors,
we learned the true meaning of this old art.
Debate was a time of seeing who could argue the best over the issues. But it all paid off as we worked on our school plays.
We might not have had the responses we wanted, but we're proud of what we did.

On stage and ready for action, Drama 2 and 3 students get last minute instructions.

Home Economics

Home Economics is a popular class and who can wonder why, with the sweet smell of food in the halls. You've got to give the guys credit too, for half that smell was what they were cooking: casseroles, cakes, roasting turkey. . .

The rumble of sewing machines could be heard as the sewing of new outfits was going on. But if the teachers walk out, look out for a flower fight! Whenever we break our apron strings, we'll be able to take care of our own house and be better people for it.

Fashion books and spring patterns are exciting to Clothing I students Stacee Smith and Jenny Galloway. Teacher Lucy Spear says, "Like it? Then try it."

Industrial Arts

Although fumes and dust exploded into our faces, we all enjoyed Industrial Arts. Pulling out your friend's spark plugs or unhooking the battery in Power Mechanics was always a lot of fun while we watched them try to fix their car. Learning the Morse Code was a bit of a hassle but paid off when we were able to talk to people in other states and countries. Tape decks and T.V.'s were always coming in and out as electronics students were always trying to figure out resistors, ohms, and amps. Wood students learned the fine art of woodcraft, and mothers kind of liked the things they brought home.

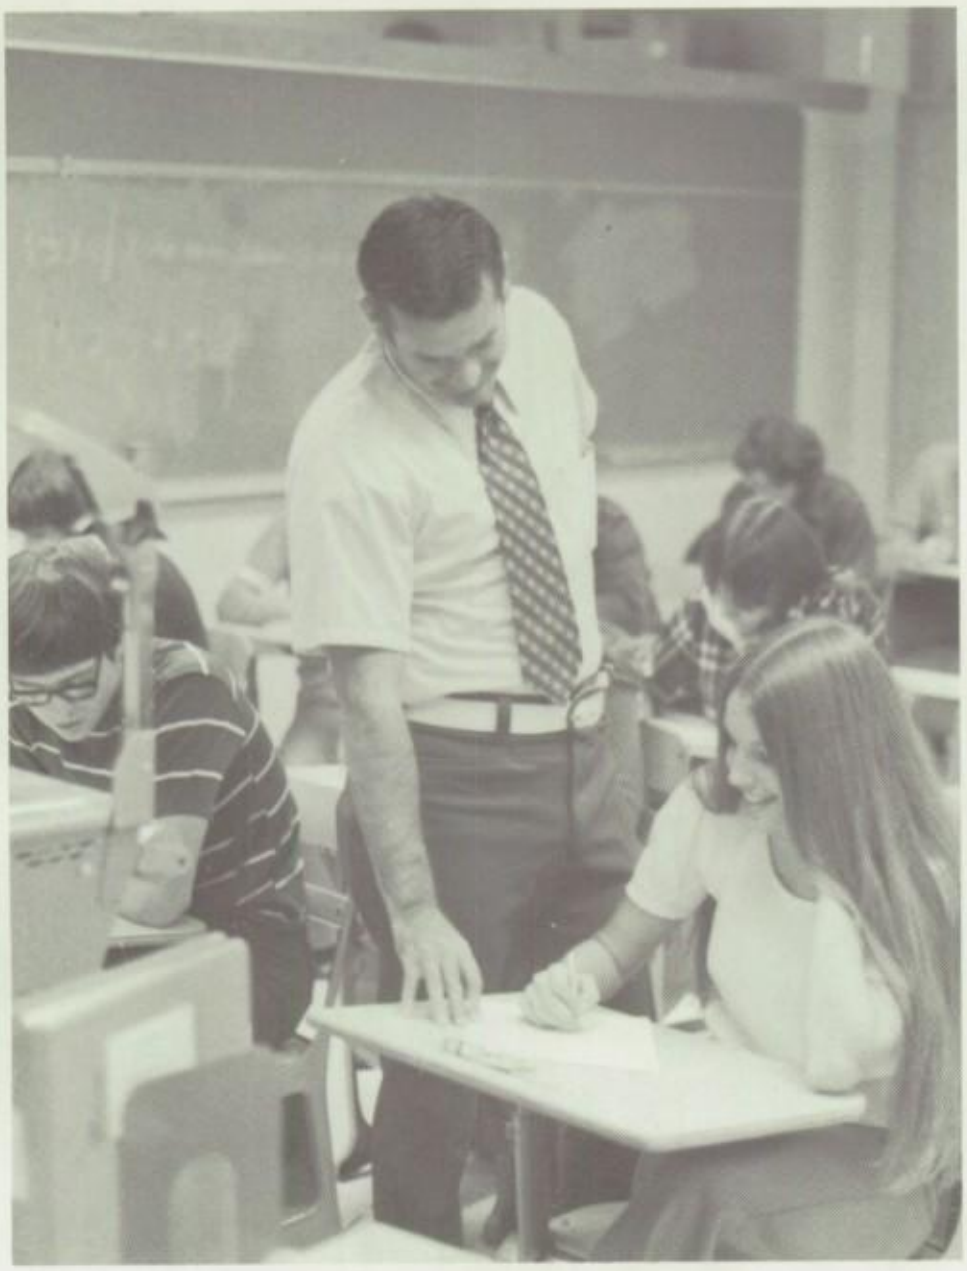
You need all the math you can get today to keep up with the times. Lavenia Daniels, Algebra, Trig, and Analytics teacher, is ready to help if students are ready to learn.

"It costs more, but we get less? I'm listening, but it doesn't add up." Ed McCray, Department Chairman of Mathematics, reflects society's inflation woes.



Both are pleased, as Sandy White shows her answer sheet to Geometry teacher Luther Younger.

Mathematics

The accomplishment of solving $ab^2(cx^3)^8 + ab^2c^8x^{24}$ is the hope of all math students. Although doing trigonometry or calculus isn't the desire of all of us, a few of us like the fight we had trying to do it. A few think we're crazy, but math is necessary and the more professional you want to be, the high math is needed. We went from whole numbers and addition to multiplication tables to where we are now: everyday learning something new and different.

"Who's got the answer?" whispers through Gail Salgle's Elementary Algebra class.

Physical Education

Physical Education: to maintain a physical fitness. We all worked from weight lifting to football, from volleyball to putting on a swim show. The weight room was a strange place for a lot of girls who didn't know what half the equipment was. Whenever we had scooter races, the main thing was not to get run over, but the favorite game seems to be "hit coach on the head with the volleyball." We got a lot of exercise running up and down the stairs trying to get to class on time, but we didn't convince anyone it ought to count in place of physical education. Whether we knew it or not, with all the games and exercise we did, our muscles were well toned and our general health was better than ever.

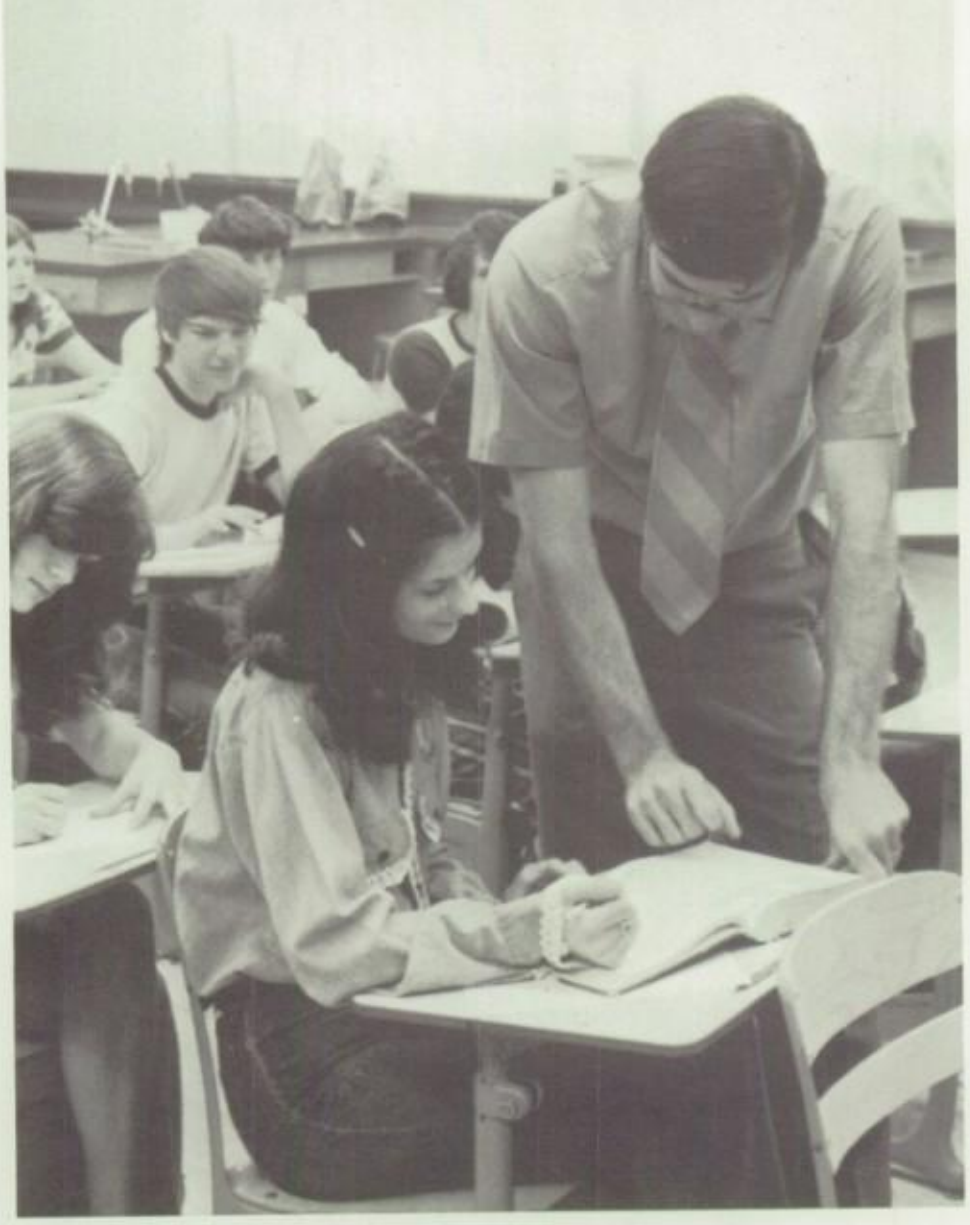
Science



"You mean I got it right?" Carrie Plagmann shows Biology teacher Denver McGee where she thought she had a problem.

Science was the place to be this year. You never knew when someone would pull out the skeleton and scare you half to death in physiology; or, if someone discovered a paramecium, you didn't. We learned everything from earth to outer space, how to understand life forms and their environment. We always wished everyone luck having lab in chemistry, so as not to blow up the school. Maybe someday, with what we learned, some of us will become another Einstein.

History

History had a big jump this year with a bringing in of new topics. Speakers on Indian history and black history brought praise and criticism from the students. Of course, there's always the Egyptians, Greeks, Romans, and discoverers of America to roam the minds of us all. Newspapers were always scattered along the halls on Monday morning as C.W.A. students had tests. And lastly, history is the place to be to learn about a spy. Right, Mr. Owen?

Office Staff

The new sign in the office, "Authorized Personnel only," gave us a hint that people in the office were pretty busy. Clerical staffers in the main office worked on transcripts and student records from the 7th to 12th grades, insurance, computer sheets, and employment referrals. Attendance dealt with homeroom counts, odd hours, Federal forms and bus passes. Mrs. Dipboye, secretary to Mr. Payne, screened calls, handled mail and payrolls, made appointments, and channeled bulletin notices, in addition to routine typing and filing. Mrs. Thompson, Banker, collects all money for school activities: yearbook, citrus fruit, Enterprise pictures, budget sales; she also pays all school bills. Mrs. Shiever operates the bookstore and orders supplies and equipment: pencils, T-shirts and jackets. These ladies keep the inner office running.

Banker Ethel Thompson spends most of her time surrounded by money, bills, and bank reconciliations.

Wake-up you three, you're suppose to lead the meeting.

Student Council members listen intently.

The serious side of Mrs. Sands, as she directs a topic at a meeting.

Student Council

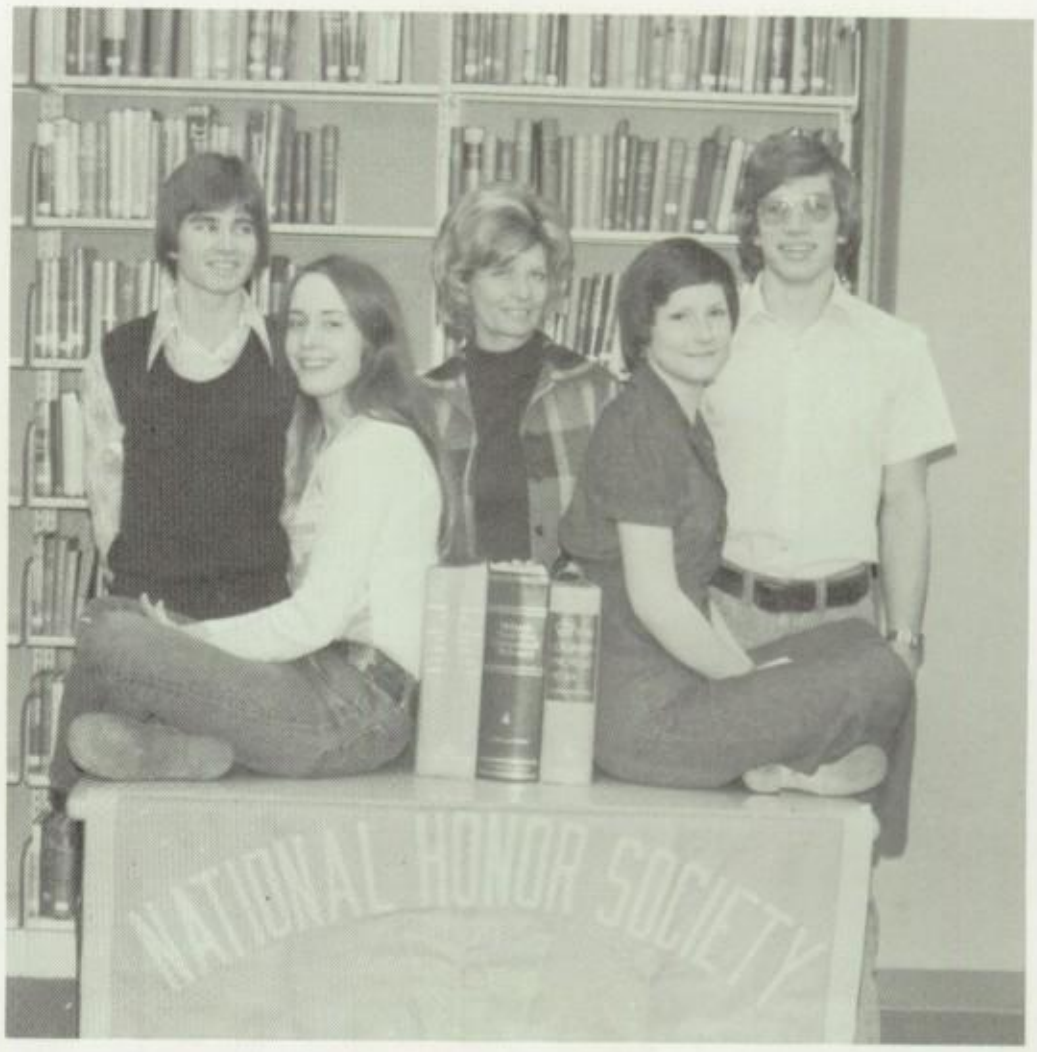
Student Council— from the beginning, working with the student body, involving the student body into working with the school, taking students' ideas to the principal.

The voice of the students in football queen and attendants, and girl and boy of the month. The voice of the representatives, elected by the homeroom members, in all student council meetings, spirit week and all ideas received from the student body.

The voice of the officers, elected by the student body, in assemblies, at the meetings, to Mr. Payne and in O.A.S.C. Organizing for the students, listening to ideas, voicing all ideas. Getting what we, the students, want done, getting us interested enough to say what we want, trying to raise our spirit so high that everyone at East Central will work together for a great year, taking one year at a time and making each year better than the last: this is the goal of the East Central Student Council.

National Honor Society

National Honor Society, more commonly known as NHS, is sponsored by Mrs. Doshie Lyod. Members of this elite organization are limited to those students with a grade point average of 3.5 for Juniors and 3.25 for Seniors. NHS has participated in and sponsored many service projects such as, a Christmas Dance for the children at Hissom Memorial Center. Also they have times just to have fun, like their annual trip to Six Flags at the end of the school year. Even these students with outstanding GPA manage to create and enjoy the pleasures of life.



OFFICERS: Carol Marple, Gary Vogt, Duane Myers, and Jodie Larson. Sponsor: Mrs. Doshie Loyd.

Yearbook Staff

If people could possibly imagine lifting a ton of bricks on their back, then maybe they would understand the ambition and persistence you must develop to survive as a member of the yearbook staff. Many people are too quick to criticize the content of someone else's work when they have no idea the time and knowledge that the person has put into his work. The yearbook is made up of a lot of memories and many good times that we all consider priceless.

Suzy Reece and Jill Kiser have been side by side throughout their Senior year and both agree that two heads are better than one.

Teresa Durbin and Keith Cambell look at other papers with a critical eye after publishing one of their own.

Journalism

Get good stories, then type them, proofread, make copies, sell papers, break even. That goes into making the E.C. paper, but much more goes into journalism. Learning advertising, how to set the right copy in the right margins, how to get a good story, what people like, and how to take criticism. It's hard work, but the members of journalism love it and secretly keep a copy of every paper published.

French Club

French Club has been one of the fastest growing clubs at East Central. French Club has various types of picnics, but it seems that their traditional breakfasts win new members faster than any other activity. With Tim Green as this year's president, success for the French Club has just begun. Miss Pharr should be congratulated for forming such an outstanding club.

President, Tim Green, Vice President, Kenita Kern, Secretary Cindy Powell. First Year Representatives are Kelli Fletcher, Carrie Plagman, Brenda Davey, and Corsair Eaton.

Have the Cardinals got that spirit? Ooh, Ahh! Yes, they do! Cardinals yell as hard as they can and then yell some more. Pep Club meetings, signing of names, spirit cookies, spirit ribbons, pep assemblies, and then the big moment, the game. The signs are up in the hall and the spirit is at a peak. Members ride the bus and build up even more spirit! (Even though they would have liked to take the car.) At the game, finally, the pep club supports their team along with the cheerleaders cheers and chants. Pep club members do all this because they have pride in their school, and they believe in sharing it with others.

Cheerleaders

Our cheerleaders greeted us each morning with, "Would you like to buy a spirit ribbon and support the team?" Many hours of baking went in to insure a giant cookie for each player on game day. The Junior cheerleaders held a sidewalk sale in spite of the rainshower they got. Through the year our cheerleaders kept the spirit of the Cardinals going strong.

Junior cheerleaders are; Gina Hamer, Rhonda Stepp, Rhonda Rohmiller, Rosalind Bibb, Terry Austin, Susan Lamm, Terri Myers, Pam Kadel, Gigi Tucker.

ICE, Industrial Cooperative Education, is designed primarily for high school students to get both education and experience while still in school. All students enrolled in ICE, are eligible to join VICA. VICA, is a new club at East Central this year, and the only youth organization available for young people enrolled in Trade, Industrial, Technical, and Health Training Courses. It is designed to give the student that something "extra" which will help him to take his place more effectively in society.

In our VICA Club, we stress leadership through the election of and leadership by officers. We stress participation through social and business meetings and friendly competition by the means of skill and academic contests on the local, district, and state levels.

Any Junior or Senior, 16 years of age, who has an earnest desire to learn a trade, and whose school record is satisfactory, may apply for enrollment in this course.

Chess Club

For Randy Widdoes, Sandie Heath, Robert Woods and Dan Schuck concentrating comes fairly easy early in the morning.

It is the challenge, skill and knowledge of defeating an opponent by pure brain power that keeps the Chess Club going. Chess Club members feel that getting to school by seven o'clock in the morning, practicing moves, going over the same thing, thinking of new moves and a way to beat your opponent are well worth the satisfaction they get from winning a mental battle.

Few people can make it in Chess Club; few can take the early hours and the mental frustration of many complicated moves, so the people in Chess Club are commended for their dedication.

Randy Sheppard and Pam Clements are too busy to look at the camera because they are thinking, or are they?

Members of Chess Club are: Dan Schuck, Sandie Heath, Larry Highburger, Bill Reynolds, Craig Carpenter, Pam Clements, Carol McCaskill, Tony Sanders, Raymond Shepard, Randy Widdoes, Robert Wood, Robert O'bar, Joan Tanner, and Hershel Shelton. These people held matches before and after school; matches were arranged by their sponser, Mr. Gene Reedy, electronics and power mechanics teacher at East Central.

Key Club

Officers are: Secretary Mike Perry, Lieutenant Governor Walter Moore, President Jay Pancoast, Sponsor Mike Phillips.

The Key Club is a young men's service organization that is a branch of the Kiwanas Club. Their aim is community service. This year they were fortunate to be the home club of our district's Lt. Governor. Some of their projects this year included a garage sale, a dance, picking up the school grounds, and listening to a Black Belt in Karate. The money earned from the money-making projects goes to finance the reward for their hard work; the convention trip to Dallas, Texas. The best time for the members.

Medical Club

Officers are: Pres. Susan Tanner, Vice Pres. Kent Shelby, Cor. Sec. Lynda Whorton, Treasurer Tim Mautino, Rec. Sec. Jerri Kay Bradfield, Med. Cor. Dan Schuch.

Medical Club is formed to acquaint interested students with different health careers, and their relationships to people. They visit nursing homes to see and talk to others that are less fortunate; they also have many interesting and worthwhile speakers on health and different kinds of health careers. To them, health is a career, not just a state of being: a career that you don't make in an hour or so. It takes a lot of thought—thought of your abilities and personality and what you want to do with all the tomorrows ahead. A health career demands- integrity, determination, time and energy, skill, accuracy, intellectual ability and character. That is what Medical Club is about and what they are striving for in their life-time here at E.C., and always.

Members are: Susan Tanner, Kent Shelby, Ricky Reddout, Joy Hailey, Sherrie Zumwalt, Lynda Whorton, Joan Tanner, Mary Hughes, Tim Mautino, Diane Spielmann, Jerri Kay Bradfield, Pam Grandstaff, Dan Schuch, Valerie Riehl, Teresa Ryser, Don Stapleton, and Tony Moure.

From gospel rock to classical music Our chorus will sing it, Bringing high and superior honors from city and state contest. Making trips out of town and to other senior and junior high schools in Tulsa, from solos and trios to barber shop quartettes. Get your Texas Sweet grapefruits and oranges, a money making project that really brought in the money for that grand piano. What a "living" chorus we have at E.C.

What could be better than a barbershop quartet.

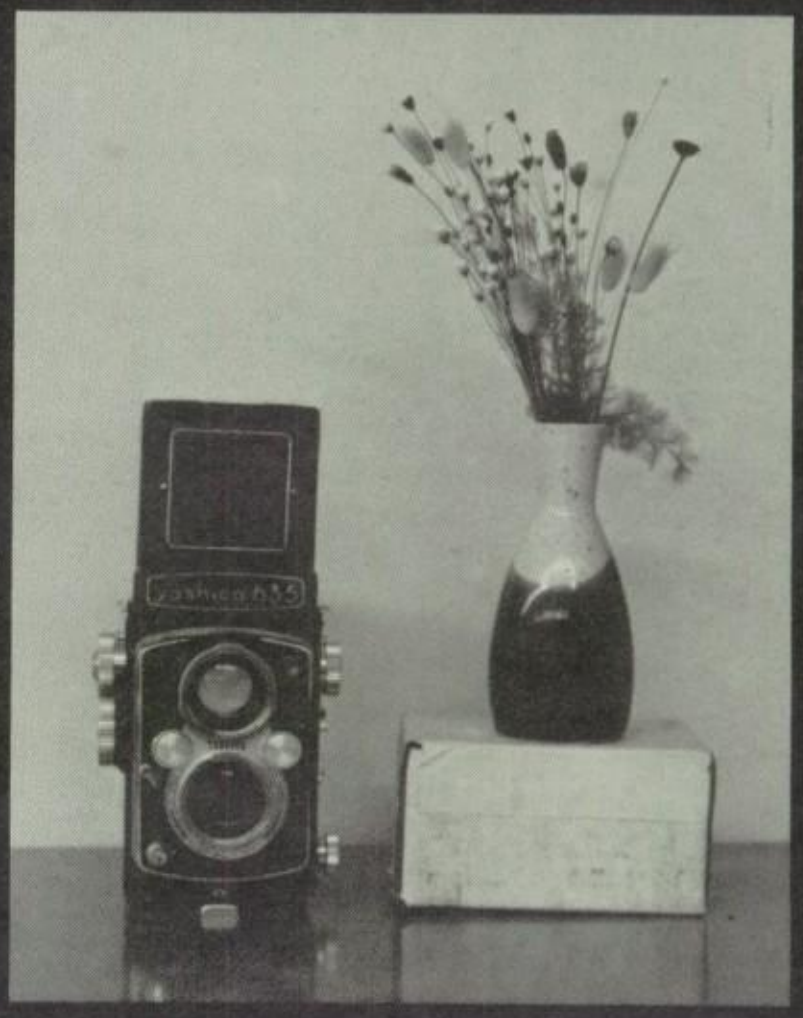
Flashback '75

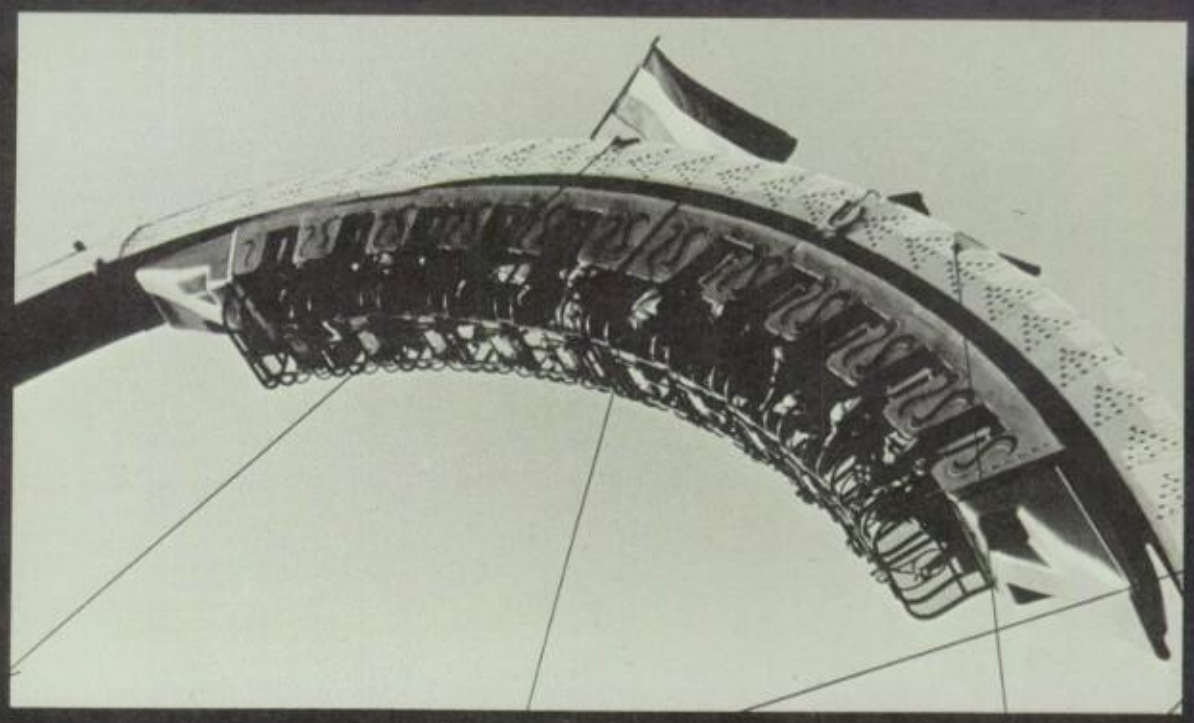
School begins, summer is over. No more staying out every night. It's up at 7:00, and be at school by 8:00. But the talk of summer wasn't over. It lingered throughout the year. "Boy you should have been with us this summer . . . and, I can't wait til this summer begins . . ." But we still managed to get our education, those of us who wanted to learn.

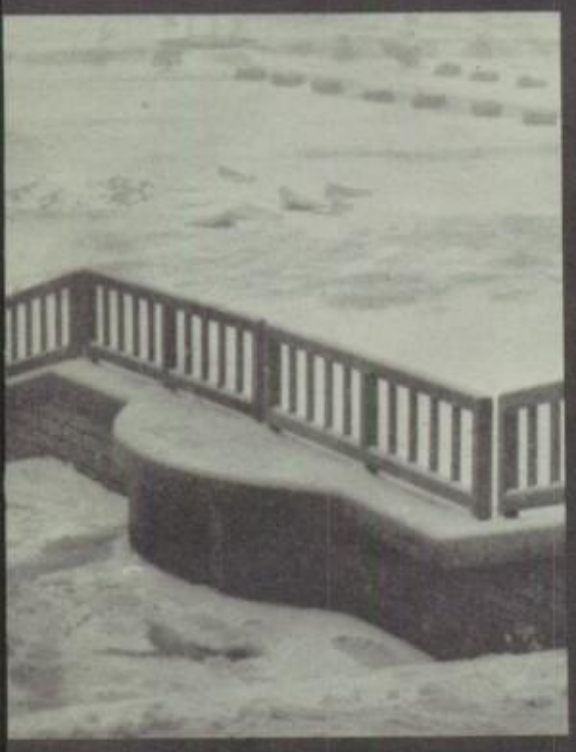
But as time went on for each there is a way to become involved, whether it be football, basketball, tennis, or some other sport. Or maybe your thing was a club with your interests by implying change and growth and progress; there were voices to be heard and thoughts to be thought. For each there is a way to participate or a way to care.

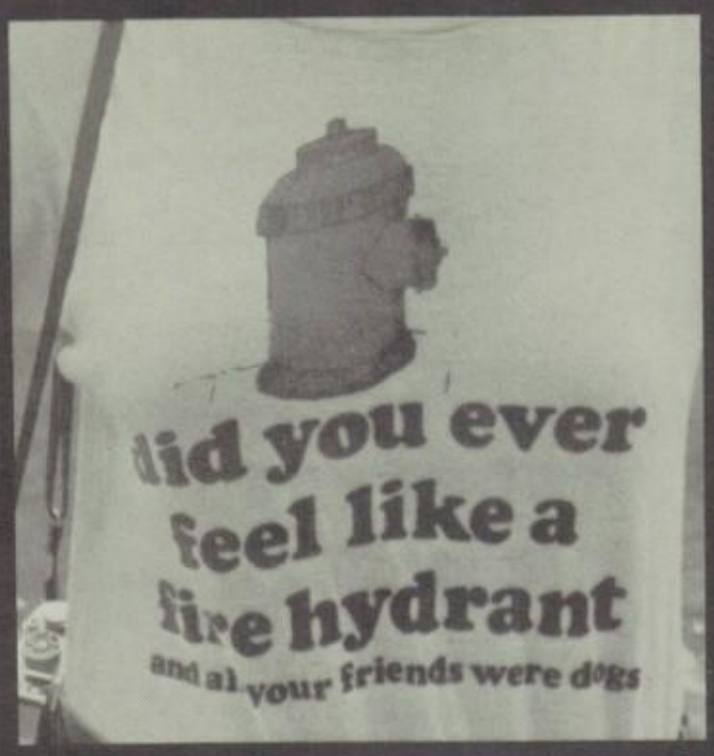
As weeks go by we found ourselves with true Cardinal Spirit attending football games after football games. We might not have had the best season's record, but we had a pride unmeasured for a team: and a coach that gave all for our school and what's to show for it with strained muscles pulled tendons, and the bruises. It's the spirit that remains intact, in victory and defeat.

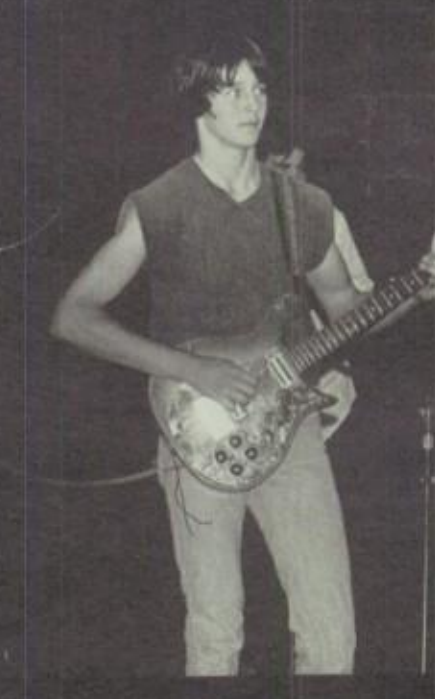


With Christmas vacation approaching and basketball season just getting started, time was thought to have slowed down. The all school play "Taming of the Shrew," and hit movies such as "Death Wish" and "Earthquake," kept us busy. And when our break was over, our parties ended, only to find that time was speeding by and only a semester left to go.









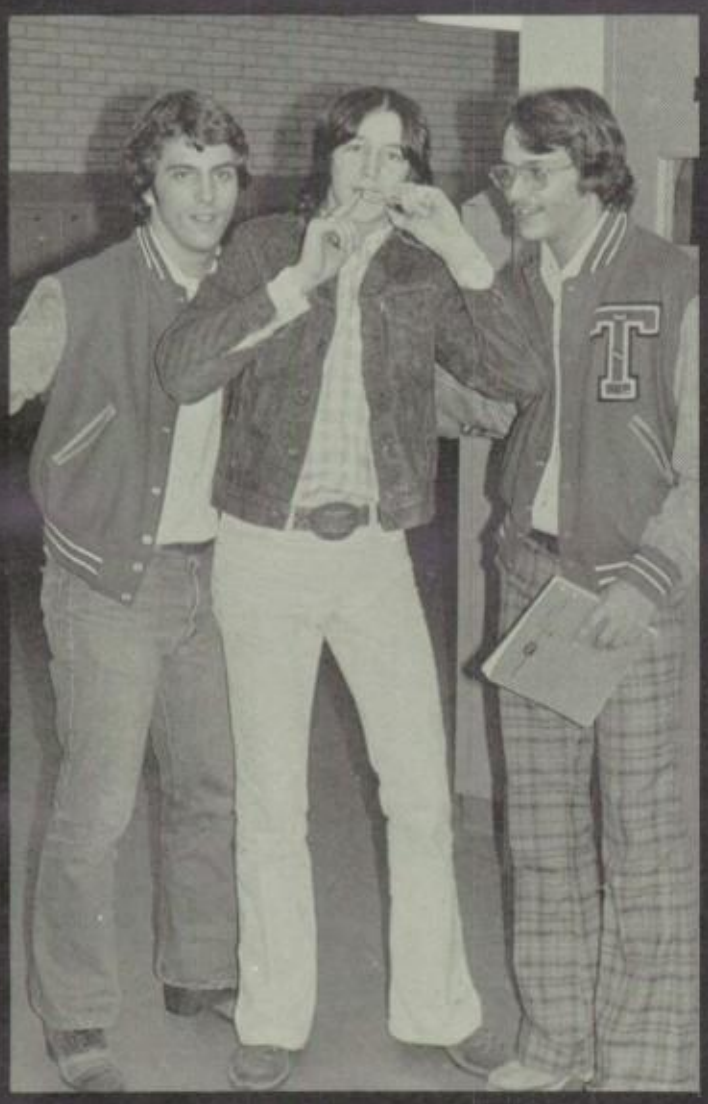
The second semester began with the wild, modern version of "The Birds." Costumes so far out it made David Bowie look human. Basketball was back in the action, too, with the competition both in the stands and on the court. And wrestling was our biggy, walking over teams match after match. They weren't going to stop til they reached the top.

College applications, looking for just the right scholarship, and making plans for the future, seniors reach for the answers.

February, carnations and singing valentines filled the homerooms, and what would be better than attending the Key Club Valentine dance.

With the Seniors planning their prom and graduation it only spanned to make things worse. Two more months of school and spring break attacks us all. That only started to make the lake and staying home more important than school, but we all had to come back to see who had the darkest tan. And Senior prom was just around the corner.

Then we realize that high school is the time of self learning, the expansion of thoughts to greater things but only by an examination in onesself. Self concept, self image, and self purpose, all necessary to grow to change and to evolve to greater service.



Senior prom and vesper services over and on May 29, 1975 we find ourselves standing in line at the Civic Center waiting for the diploma that made maybe the best twelve years of our life worthwhile. After the parents have been kissed, the friends wished well and goodbye, the pictures taken and the robes put away, we asked ourselves "Where do I go from here, What will I do?"

Three years of memories can never quite prepare us for this moment. But what would we do without the memories, the memories we hope you will remember. For it's not the ending, but a new beginning.

During the publication of the Cardinal yearbook, almost inadvertently we inherited a host of problems and enemies that accompany the job. Despite them, we did finish the book, a book we feel is a good one.

We can never say enough "thank you's".

To the person most responsible for the compilation of the book, besides the photographers, not enough praise can be given, Tina Holcomb. She was always there, ready and willing to get the job done. This is who you should thank for this edition of the yearbook.

To the photographers, Mike "Oley" Boley and Jacci Carter, I take my hat off. They developed most of our pictures and spent hour on hour running all over town to get pictures taken.

To Curtis Kennedy and James Jackson who did such a job on sports. Starting out from scratch they gave us some fantastic layouts and work, not to mention a few Excedrin headaches.

To Jill Kiser, Suzy Reece, and Mitch Freeman, who headed up organizations they handled some of the more unpleasant chores. Although we worried a lot about deadlines, they always made theirs.

To Keela Stow and Denise Trimble, who did so much work on classes and elite, it's been quite a while since the Cardinal has had two people of this caliber.

And to the rest of the eleven-odd souls who spent hours of typing, filing, and picture planning, thanks for your interest and help in making the Cardinal edition the best one possible.

To Bob Welch, our faithful representative of Walsworth Publishing Co., and Ms. Jan Armstrong, our sponsor, thanks for keeping us in line.

And finally to the student body, I make one request. Examine your copy of the Cardinal edition. Then jot down your criticisms and give them to a Cardinal staff member. Only then will student publications in this school improve.

When you have flipped through the pages of this record book, put it on your bookshelf. I predict that you will refer to it again in five or ten years. Then tell me how much of this year you would have remembered without it. That, my friend, is the value of a yearbook.

Mrs Armstrong,
This has been one of the greatest years
for me and being on Yearbook Staff has helped to make it even greater. I've loved it & I'm looking forward to next year.
